

Former Nixon aide answers perjury count

Chapin trial under way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jury selection began today for the trial of Dwight L. Chapin, charged with lying to a grand jury about the "dirty political tricks" activities of Donald H. Segretti.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard H. Gesell told a panel of 60 that the trial is expected to "not take more than a week or 10 days."

"I can assure you this is a firm estimate; it will not be a long trial," the judge said.

The jury of 12 and four alternates will be sequestered during the trial.

In the courtroom were Chapin's wife,

Susan, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Chapin.

Chapin, former presidential appointments secretary, was indicted Nov. 29, 1973 on four counts of lying to a grand jury.

Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said that ousted White

House counsel John W. Dean III would be a key government witness against Chapin.

Dean, who pleaded guilty last October to conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in, already has testified as a prosecution witness at the New York trial of former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

Another key prosecution witness will be Segretti, who served five months in a federal correctional facility after pleading guilty to misdemeanor violations of federal election laws. Segretti was released last Monday.

Like Dean, Segretti agreed to cooperate with the special prosecutor's office.

Meanwhile, Vice President Gerald R. Ford has blasted the Committee For the Re-election of the President, describing it in a Chicago speech as an "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents."

Ford spoke Saturday to more than 1,000 midwest Republicans, including GOP National Chairman George Bush and presidential hopeful Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. The audience stood and cheered Ford's biting remarks about the re-election committee.

He said the committee "violated the historic concept of the two-party system in America and ran roughshod over the seasoned political judgment and experience of the regular Republican party organization in the 50 states. The fatal defect of CREP was that it made its own rules and thus made its own ruin," he said.

Later, Ford told a news conference he "spoke as my own man," that his remarks had not been cleared with the White House.

In other Watergate developments, Percy said Sunday in New Haven he expects Nixon to be impeached this year. Meanwhile, sources in Washington said quiet preparations are underway in several Senate offices for a possible impeachment trial. The sources also said other studies are underway by individual senators.

The Chapin indictment said he testified April 11, 1973 before a grand jury investigating Segretti's activities.

Chapin told the grand jury he never discussed the distribution of campaign literature of any kind with Segretti and was unaware that Segretti ever distributed such literature.

The indictment alleged that Chapin's answers "as he then there well knew, were false."

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

After he was indicted Chapin, 33, took a leave of absence from his job as director of market planning for United Air Lines.

A graduate of the University of Southern California, Chapin hired Segretti, a college chum, allegedly to be a Republican prankster in the 1972 campaign.

But Segretti's pranks included the distribution of literature that appeared to come from various candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination and accused others of misconduct. Distributing political literature which does not identify the source is a federal crime.

Marketbasket survey shows price dips

By LOUISE COOK

The family grocery bill declined slightly during March, the first such drop in five months, an AP market-basket survey shows.

More items went up in price than went down. But sales on meat and eggs cut the dollar value of the market-basket in nine of 13 cities checked, with an average decrease of 2.2 per cent. It was the first month since October that marketbasket declines outnumbered increases.

The AP priced 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest check showed that 32.3 per cent of the items in the survey went up in price during March, 1974; 23.6 per cent decreased; 36.4 per cent were unchanged; and 7.7 per cent were unavailable on one of the two survey dates.

The marketbasket decreases ranged from a fraction of a per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., to 4 per cent in Boston where the price of a pound of chopped chuck dropped from $1.49 to $1.09.

The bill was up in four cities — Seattle, Wash., New York, Miami and Philadelphia — with an average increase of 1.6 per cent.

Prices in every city were higher at the beginning of April 1974 than they were on March 1, 1973. The market-basket bill was up an average of 13.3 per cent over the 13-month period, with increases ranging from 6 per cent in Los Angeles to 25 per cent in Philadelphia.

Meat sales helped cut the bill. All-

Dispute flares over Vietnam commitment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extent to which the United States is committed by the Paris peace agreement to aiding South Vietnam has drawn varying interpretations from the secretary of state and the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger believes that the United States is politically and morally committed to giving long-term military and economic aid to South Vietnam.

Under the Paris agreement,

Kissinger said in a letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., "The United States committed itself to strengthening the conditions which made the cease-fire possible and to the goal of the South Vietnamese people's right to self-determination."

However, Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., responded that the Paris "agreements aren't commitments, they are only a declaration of intent."

Kissinger, wife honeymoon in seclusion at Acapulco

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Acapulco's social set awaited word today on whether the newlywed Kissingers were open to invitations.

But Washington's most fabled swinger appeared intent so far on keeping a veil of privacy around his honeymoon.

Some 60 vacationers lined the Las Brisas dock Sunday and applauded as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and the former Nancy Maginnes pupil to Rockefeller as a foreign policy aide.

Despite the 50-year-old secretary's well-publicized appearances with glamorous stars and starlets, Miss Maginnes, 39, has been his frequent companion for years, and a marriage was rumored for months.

Kissinger broke the news to Rockefeller Saturday morning ("By the way, Nancy and I are getting married.") and Rockefeller later announced the wedding to a meeting of midwest Republicans.

The official announcement came from the State Department in the name of Mrs. Albert B. Maginnes of White Plains, N.Y., the bride's mother.

The wedding, attended by a handful of friends and relatives and Kissinger's two children by his previous marriage, took place before a judge in Arlington, Va. Rockefeller lent the newlyweds a jet for the trip to Acapulco.

Two boatloads of Secret Servicemen trailed El Orate around the bay, then packed into two cars to follow Kissinger's limousine back to banker Eustaquio Escandon's secluded villa overlooking the sea where the couple is staying.

"I'm sure there will be some parties or at least a dinner or two while they're here," said a leading Acapulco socialite wistfully. But he added that the Kissingers had accepted no invitations yet.

"Every man when he gets married is entitled to have some privacy," said a State Department spokesman.

Only a handful of persons knew in advance of Kissinger's wedding Saturday, among them former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mrs. Kissinger's employer.

The former Miss Maginnes, who at almost six feet is noticeably taller than Kissinger, is head of international studies for Rockefeller's Commission on Critical Choices. She and Kissinger met 10 years ago when she enrolled in his foreign policy seminar at Harvard, and the professor recommended his

Wilmington trio shot

WILMINGTON — Three Wilmington residents are in Cincinnati General Hospital with bullet wounds in their heads following what police said may have been an attempted double murder-suicide early Sunday.

Ronald Buck, 36, formerly of the Milledgeville area, and his wife, Bonnie, 24, of Wilmington, are reported in serious condition following surgery. Richard Sloan, 26, also of Wilmington, is in fair condition following surgery.

The trio were found about 4:30 a.m. Sunday. Buck was on the lawn in front of apartments at 126 Randolph St., Mrs. Buck in a car in front of the apartments, and Sloan in a hall stairway inside the building, according to Gary Brannon, Wilmington police dispatcher.

No arrests have been made, and Brannon said the investigation is continuing. Police presently think Buck may have shot his wife and Sloan, who were in Buck's car and then turned the weapon on himself.

Ford employees start layoffs

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Some 50 employees of the Ford Motor Co. stamping plant in Cleveland started a one-week layoff today as a result of production cutbacks that also will affect 500 more Ohio workers.

Ford officials said severe sales slumps are forcing them to shift into lower gear during April.

A layoff scheduled April 15 for 500 Lima engine plant workers will last at least one week, a Ford spokesman said.

See higher prices from steel talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel industry negotiators are beginning two weeks of hard bargaining in what is expected to result in a costly settlement for the industry and higher prices for consumers.

Bargainers for the Big 10 steel producers and the United Steelworkers of America face a self-imposed April 15 deadline to reach accord on a new contract or submit all unresolved issues to binding arbitration.

The talks get underway today with both sides anxious to avoid arbitration on major issues. A settlement is expected that is likely to follow the pattern shaped earlier this year in USW contracts with the aluminum and can industries.

USW President I.W. Abel has indicated he is seeking a wage increase above 10 per cent to "reflect at least increases in the cost of living plus productivity" for his 350,000 members employed by the 10 major steelmakers.

Barring unforeseen developments, all wage-price controls on the industry will be dropped by April 30, leaving producers free to pass on increased wages and benefits in the form of higher steel prices.

The bargaining is taking place under an historic "experimental negotiating agreement" signed a year ago which precludes strikes or lockouts and guarantees the workers a minimum wage increase of 3 per cent in each of the next three years. In addition, each worker will receive a one-time $150 bonus.

The no-strike agreement was reached in an effort to break the so-called "boom-bust" cycle that has characterized recent steel negotiations.

The current three-year contract, under which steel workers average $5.78 an hour in wages, expires Aug. 1. If the aluminum and can settlements are extended to steel, wages in the industry would rise about 12 per cent, or 65 cents an hour, over the next three years, in addition to the nine per cent increase already agreed upon.

An improvement in the wage cost-of-living formula that added nearly 40 cents an hour to paychecks under the current contract also is expected.

But the main emphasis is expected in the pension area, where the union is

Pope Paul VI fights weakness

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appears to have recovered from his second attack of influenza in a month, but Vatican sources say he is still weak, often in pain and needs a long rest.

The sources say the 76-year-old Pope is being strongly advised against resuming the full schedule of work and reading that, until a few weeks ago, ran from dawn until past midnight.

The Vatican did not elaborate on the Pope's illness last week except to say that it was a slight indisposition. The sources said it was a recurrence of the flu that hit him earlier in March.

The Pope ran a slight fever and canceled his weekly general audience on Wednesday. He did bless the crowd from his study, however.

On Sunday, the Pope spoke from the open window of the study to the crowd in St. Peter's Square. His voice was firm and he appeared fit.

But the Vatican sources said the two flu attacks have aggravated an old and painful disease afflicting the joints. The disease, which the sources did not identify, reportedly is the reason why the pontiff, always frail, has for some years walked with a slight stoop and has needed help sitting down and standing up.

The influenza and pains in his joints are said to have sapped the Pope's strength, making him very weak, one source said. There is talk that he may be advised to take mud treatments at a spa, most likely on the island of Ischia, off Naples.

"If he doesn't rest," one prelate said, "the pains will never go away, and soon the slightest of movements will be difficult."

Some Vatican sources say doctors may even ask the Pope to delegate some of his functions to aides.

So far the pontiff has been a stubborn patient — "disobedient," a Vatican doctor once called him. He has always been anxious to return to his desk, audiences and speeches.

FAYETTE COUNTY Auditor Mary Morris announces that the Homestead Exemption office, located in the Courthouse building, opened Monday morning.

Mrs. Morris said persons applying for Homestead exemptions are required to register each year, and this year's deadline is June 3. Applicants are required to bring their last tax bills or property deeds when applying so that it will be known what property an exemption can be granted for.

The office, located in the basement of the Courthouse building across from the county engineer's office, is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 until 4 p.m.

ABSENTEE VOTING for the May 7 primary election in Fayette County will open April 7, according to Mrs. Mary Jean Jennings, elections director.

The deadline for absentee voters is 4 p.m. May 2. Parents of college students may contact the Board of Elections and ask that applications for ballots be sent to the students. Other persons who will not be in Fayette County for the primary election may cast their ballots at the board office during the April 7-May 2 period.

Major bills face Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Campaign financing reforms, no fault auto insurance, and a bill establishing a state energy commission face Ohio's lawmakers today as they begin a three-day week leading to a month long recess.

Leaders said those are the major items but others may be considered by committee sessions and floor deliberations. The legislature will adjourn Wednesday and return May 8, the day after the primary election.

A joint conference committee is seeking to work out Senate-House differences on the campaign financing bill. But it hit a snag at the first meeting last week that could produce an all out deadlock.

Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D—89 New Boston, said the House will not comply with Senate demands for language that would give new life to the political career of Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R—4 Middletown.

However, Riffe pointed out that the six-member conference committee is considering differences that do not include what has come to be known as "the Lukens amendment." He said "It wasn't in the Senate version and it wasn't in the House version. They are supposed to consider only the differences in the bill."

The House State Government Committee, in its deliberations, inserted language that would take care of Lukens' problem. However, Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D—6 Cleveland, who offered the amendment, said he also did it on behalf of about 600 other persons in Ohio under the same penalty, including about 350 in the Cleveland area.

Riffe indicated the dispute could kill the bill, noting that the House deleted the Sweeney amendment soundly when it reached the floor. "It could very well mean the life of the bill," he said. The Senate Financial Institutions, Insurance, and Elections Committee is expected to vote late today on a bill giving Ohio a no fault insurance law. It would mean that a motorist injured in an accident could collect from his own insurance company, no matter who was to blame, up to a limit of $1,500.

Leaders of both parties predict approval tonight by a joint subcommittee of a measure designed to deal with any existing or future energy crisis. The basics of the measure were agreed to last week by members of the panel headed by Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R—7 Cincinnati.

Under the proposal, there would be a five-member commission empowered to adopt rules and regulations for 30 days, but only by unanimous vote. It could issue a "public call" for a special session of the legislature under language currently in the bill.

The commission would be made up of the governor, two members of the legislature from opposing political parties, and a representative of the energy industry along with one member representing the public. The governor would act as chairman, and would be the spokesman for the state in energy matters involving the federal government.

Marketbasket survey shows price dips

The marketbasket decreases ranged from a fraction of a per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., to 4 per cent in Boston where the price of a pound of chopped chuck dropped from $1.49 to $1.09.

The bill was up in four cities — Seattle, Wash., New York, Miami and Philadelphia — with an average increase of 1.6 per cent.

Prices in every city were higher at the beginning of April 1974 than they were on March 1, 1973. The market-basket bill was up an average of 13.3 per cent over the 13-month period, with increases ranging from 6 per cent in Los Angeles to 25 per cent in Philadelphia.

Meat sales helped cut the bill. All-beef frankfurters, for example, declined in 11 cities during March and stayed the same in two. The average decline was 9 per cent. The average price for a pound of allbeef franks on March 1, 1973, was $1.09. On March 1, 1974, the average price was $1.35 and on March 30, 1974, it was $1.24.

Eggs decreased in 10 cities, down four or five cents to about 75 cents a dozen in most places. The price increased in two cities, New York and Detroit, and was unchanged in Philadelphia.

Chocolate chip cookies were up in 12 cities during March, rising an average of 5 per cent. They were unavailable in one city. The average price of a 14½-ounce bag of cookies was 61 cents on March 1, 1973; 75 cents on March 1, 1974; and 79 cents on March 30, 1974, for an over-all increase of 30 per cent. Sugar was up at the retail as well as the wholesale level. A five-pound bag of granulated sugar that cost an average of 68 cents on March 1, 1973, cost $1.00 12 months later and was up to $1.17 in the latest survey, for an over-all increase of 72 per cent. Sugar went up in all 13 cities during both February and March, with an average March increase of 17 per cent.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, pork chops, frozen orange juice, coffee, paper towels, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and sugar.

The cities covered by the survey were: Atlanta, Albuquerque, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Providence, R.I., Philadelphia, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Seattle.

Fight public aid to private schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The traditional Catholic parochial school will survive financially without public aid because the church is "property-rich," but it needs broader support from its own members.

That is the philosophy expressed by Dr. G. Weir Hartman, executive director of the Ohio Free Schools Association.

The OFSA held a day-long conference Saturday to build its support of "public education, religious freedom and separation of church and state."

Dr. Hartman, a Columbus Methodist minister, said the organization views "with great alarm" the diversion of public funds away from public schools into private education.

It has filed an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief in the American Civil Liberties Union federal court case against the Ohio legislature. The ACLU is trying to halt an $81.4 million distribution of state money for special services to private schools.

"We want to protect public education and prevent anything that hurts it," Dr. Hartman explained during an interview.

He claimed that two-thirds of Catholic parents now enroll their children in public schools to take advantage of available services out of reach of the parochial schools.

Dr. Hartman said the successful private schools are those which do not accept public money and public limitations.

He said the OFSA would advocate the closing of private schools because a single system would unite communities. He disclaimed the theory that a shutdown of parochial schools would flood public schools systems.

"Public funding for private education violates the basic principle of the first amendment," Dr. Hartman said. "It combines religion and political power."

Donald Traxler, president of the Ohio Education Association, told the conference the OEA regards public aid to private schools as a step toward the destruction of public education.

"It (aid) is a step toward racial, social and economic isolation of children," Traxler said.

Other conference speakers included Dr. Joseph Skehan, of Bloomsburg, Pa., president of the National Association of Catholic Laity; Dr. James V. Panoch, of Dayton, coordinator of the Public Education Religion Studies Center, Wright State University; and Anne Lindsay, of Cleveland, chapter president of Americans United.

KSU parents rap White House 'intrusion'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Parents of some of the Kent State University students who were killed or wounded May 4, 1970 have attacked the White House for what they call "inappropriate intrusion" into the Justice Department investigation of the shootings.

A statement issued Sunday following a meeting of the parents charges that politics delayed convening a federal grand jury to investigate the 1970 incident.

The parents' meeting came two days after a federal grand jury returned indictments charging eight former National Guardsmen with violating the civil rights of students who were shot at Kent.

About 20 persons attended the private meeting, including parents of three of the four slain students and some of the wounded students.

Mrs. Louis A. Schroeder of Lorain, whose son, William, was killed at Kent, said members of the group have met regularly since the shootings nearly four years ago.

She read a statement after the meeting saying it appeared "there has been political interference with the judicial process."

The parents suggested that the delay in convening the grand jury might become part of the deliberations of the House Judiciary Committee during its impeachment investigations.

The statement charged that former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell's "decision in August 1971 not to allow a federal grand jury was made at a time when he was already actively engaged in the management of (President) Nixon's re-election campaign."

The statement said Mitchell's decision came "in the face of the strong conclusions of the Scranton Commission that the shootings were 'unnecessary, unwarranted and inexcusable.'"

Mrs. Schroeder said a major concern of the group "has been the failure of the Justice Department to convene a federal grand jury within a reasonable period of time after the Scranton Commission and the FBI investigations."

The statement added that "as recently as May 1973, shortly before Mr. (Elliot N.) Richardson reopened the investigation, the White House specifically ruled out the convening of a federal grand jury, and the White House commented specifically that if a grand jury were convened, no indictments would result."

"This was an inappropriate intrusion by the White House into the affairs of the judicial branch of government."

Gondola falls; man killed

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — A hot air balloon drifted into high wires near Cambridge Sunday night, shearing off the gondola, authorities said. One man was killed and two injured in the fall to the ground.

The Guernsey County Sheriff's department identified the men as Clyde "Skip" Jacobs, the pilot, and Dr. Richard Whiteleather, both of Cambridge, and Tom LaBlue of El Paso, Tex.

Jacobs died in Guernsey County Memorial Hospital shortly after the crash, officers said. The other two men were in serious condition.

The sheriff's department said the balloon was drifting about two miles east of Cambridge when it hit the lines. Officers estimated the gondola and its occupants fell between 70 and 80 feet.

Heating fuel prices lowered

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) lowered its price for home heating oil and diesel fuel by .3 cent per gallon today and announced there will be no change this month in its gasoline prices.

The announcement also applied to gasoline sold by Sohio in adjacent states, the spokesman said.

The decrease brought home heating and diesel fuels to 33.1 cents per gallon, the spokesman said.

Retail gasoline prices remained at 51.8 cents per gallon for regular and 55.8 cents per gallon for premium. Sohio also had no gasoline price boost last month.

Sohio agrees allocations are legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and Sohio have settled a disagreement over the fuel allocation program, but it came too late to help the National Lubricating Co. of Brilliant.

Nevertheless, the settlement may have an impact on the oil companies if fuel shortages persist among distributors and suppliers.

The commission and Sohio were at odds after the state ordered the oil company to sell 60,000 gallons of gasoline to National early in March.

National distributes Texaco gasoline to 13 stations in the Steubenville area. But an official of National said Texaco had exhausted its set aside allocation by the first week of March and the Brilliant company needed gasoline.

Sohio had argued that the commission did not have the authority to force them to sell to competitors in distress.

The commission contended that Federal Energy Office regulations permitted the state to order distributions as it deemed necessary to meet current demands.

Over the weekend, John Minnis, assistant coordinator for the PUCO's allocation program, said Sohio officials "agreed that we have the right to transfer gasoline between competing companies."

However, Minnis said Sohio was granted some concessions. He said competitors must pay cash to Sohio, Sohio dealers will be denied supplies to meet the needs of competitors and gasoline will be transferred in trucks not identified with the competitor.

Despite the agreement, National will not need its 60,000 gallons, at least for the time being.

Minnis said the delivery could not be made before today, the first of the month, when National will begin receiving its April allocation from Texaco.

Help for the elderly

Nearly four months ago the Senate acted to do something about the nation's shoddy treatment of the aged. By a vote of 66 to 8, it approved a bill which among other things authorizes Medicare payment of the cost of prescription drugs used in the home for treatment of chronic illness.

Unfortunately the measure has since then remained bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Our youth-oriented society does little enough for the elderly. This would be rectified in part by such legislation. Many past retirement age are sick, but not sick enough to require hospitalization or nursing home care.

Often drug expenses consume a significant share of their meager resources.

There can be no decent evasion of society's responsibility to ease this part of the heavy burden carried by persons whose earning power is gone or gravely diminished.

The bill passed by the Senate also includes the so-called work bonus program whereby the government would modestly supplement the income of families which subsist on poverty-level wages. This expenditure of tax money in behalf of the working poor also appears to be desirable social legislation.

It may be, however, that doubts about the latter provision are holding up the bill in the House committee. If this is the case, perhaps the two should be considered separately.

The financial pressure on the elderly suffering from chronic illness ought to be alleviated without further delay. Once that was done, the work bonus plan for low-income could then be dealt with on its merits.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

'Federalism' vs. industrial violence

The "New Federalism," to which the Nixon Administration has made half-hearted obeisance, has an ancient and honorable intellectual lineage.

Two liberal stalwarts of the pre-Earl Warren Supreme Court, Louis Brandeis and Felix Frankfurter, were vociferous in their championing of the right of individual states to experiment for themselves in economic matters. But so-called liberalism, in the era of the "Imperial Presidency" that actually began with the Administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has more or less repudiated the Brandeis-Frankfurter concept of decentralization.

The big labor unions, in their drive to homogenize the entire U.S. economy, have very little sympathy for the "New Federalist" approach.

Individual states, however, can still benefit by making up their own minds when it comes to dealing with economic matters. The 19 states that have Right-to-Work laws have demonstrated that insistence on free choice in union membership fosters industrial development without leading to union busting.

Other states are discovering that industry can be attracted or repelled by local attitudes toward enforcing the law that supposedly protects individuals or corporations against violence in labor disputes.

his effort to save the projected Dow Chemical expansion at Ironton. Unable to defend its own property and personnel against picket-line violence in Ohio, the Dow Co. diverted its expansion to Allyn's Point in Connecticut. There is no Connecticut ban on calling in state law enforcement officers to deal with local strike violence if town officials are unable to provide protection.

The Dow Co.'s action is a warning to states such as Ohio and Wisconsin that they will be cutting off their collective noses — and the noses of union labor as well — if they persist in denying protection to individuals caught between the contenders in labor disputes.

THE HANGING ROCK area of Ohio, where Dow was anxious to expand, actually needs new industry. Not without reason it has been called "the Appalachia of Ohio."

It happens to have the good water supply needed in the chemical business. But there will be no expansion at Hanging Rock as long as the State of Ohio refuses to extend its police protection to areas where local law enforcement is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

Connecticut's good future in pulling a Dow plant complex away from Ohio is testimony to the vitality of the Brandeis-Frankfurter conception of liberalism. With the states competing with each other to provide police protection against industrial violence, we may look forward to a change in the Ohio law.

The union leadership in Washington, D.C., will protest that Connecticut, in its guarantees of protection against violence, is a "reactionary" commonwealth. But Justices Brandeis and Frankfurter, as precursors of the New Federalism, knew better.

Nobody ever called them reactionaries.

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

TUESDAY, APRIL 2

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)
Magnetic Mars forces stimulate your ambitions, energy and desire to be "in the middle of things." Fine! But don't waste time or talents on worthless ventures.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)
You can do more this day than you may realize. There will be plenty of opportunities to advance your status—both personally and business-wise.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)
Extra responsibilities indicated. Tackle regular duties first, then take on what you can—within reason. Don't overcrowd your schedule.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)
You may not accomplish ALL you hope to, but don't quit! Keep your hand on the wheel and keep pressing forward—to make SOME gains!

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)
Day may not be exciting but, if you look in the right places, you will find more than adequate reason for rejoicing. Get an early start!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Sidestep any activity that could hamper your forward movement. You may encounter unexpected situations; good good, too.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Getting preliminaries out of the way thoroughly, but not fussily, will be your main line to success now. Emphasize co-ordination, accuracy, foresight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Banish humdrum thoughts; reach for higher ones of better content and aspiration. You have the ability to absorb much; are not happy if not advancing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Stress your initiative now; also your innately smooth disposition, a generous Jupiter should help you in all your enterprises.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Calmness and serenity can see you over the day's rough spots. Aid someone less fortunate or someone who may be unhappy at the moment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
An excellent day in which to display your competence in home, office or other areas which need your presence and skills. But do not try to cover too much territory.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)
Work on whole week's plans. Be observing in all the right places. Take care in partnerships, handling the affairs of others.

YOU BORN TODAY are an unusually active individual, sometimes too impulsive, and tend to go to extremes in all your activities. You are highly imaginative and often give unusual "twists" to the most ordinary undertakings. Although you could excel as a business and (or) financial leader, you have a strong bent toward music and, if you do not take up composing or the playing of an instrument as a career, could well make either a most profitable avocation. You could also either write or paint—depending upon your inclinations. Curb a tendency to insist on your own way in all things.

See worst over for business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Herbert Stein of the President's Council of Economic Advisers said today he thinks the worst of the country's business slowdown may be over. He predicted inflation during the second half of the year may be about five per cent.

While still high, the 5 per cent rate would be about half the 10 per cent rate of inflation of the past 12 months.

Another member of the council, William J. Fellner, said he didn't think interest rates would decline until inflation does.

"It is hard to imagine lower interest rates before we start decelerating from high inflation rates," Fellner said at the council's regular monthly briefing on the economy.

School chief gets Indiana position

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Milwaukee schools superintendent, Dr. Richard P. Gousha, was appointed Saturday dean of the Indiana University School of Education.

Dr. Gousha, a trustee of the Joint Council on Economic Education, was a schools superintendent at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, between 1960 and 1964.

He began his career at Bettsville, Ohio, as a high school teacher.

Ohio native dies in Arizona

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — An Ohio native who became director of the American Institute of Biological Sciences in 1963 died here Saturday.

Dr. John Ritter Olive, 57, suffered an apparent heart attack, hospital officials said.

Olive was here to plan a convention of affiliated scientists, officials said.

A native of Richwood, Ohio, the Institute director received a doctoral degree from Ohio State University in 1949.

No change in bedsheet ballots

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both political parties want to do something about the so-called bedsheet election ballots in Ohio, but no change is expected this year.

Democrats will wait to see what comes out of their special national mini-convention at Kansas City next December—first such conclave for a major party in the middle of a presidential term.

Delegate selection to the regular national convention is a prime topic for the Kansas City meeting. Selections in Ohio under present law are the main reason ballots look like bedsheets in primary years.

The thrust of the national effort, however, is a state-by-state system of choosing delegates to give the party more equal representation.

Two alternate approaches to the problem are being discussed.

The Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission is nearing completion of a recommendation that would place the method of selecting delegates in the hands of the legislature.

Delegate selections now are left up to the parties themselves. In recent years and, particularly, in 1972, with the use of the so-called McGovern guidelines, Democrats found themselves in many states in an outright war with each other. Ohio was no exception.

A Senate-approved resolution pending in the House and carrying the approval of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown would spell out in the constitution a new method that would get away from the lengthy ballot.

Candidates for a national convention would not have their names listed on the ballot. Instead, they would pledge themselves to a presidential candidate prior to the election. The names of the presidential contenders would be on the ballot. Winners would have ready-made slates.

A vote for the presidential candidate would also be a vote for each delegate or alternate delegate candidate who declared beforehand that the presidential contender was the candidate of his or her choice.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Wake up! Charles is not your Prince Charming

DEAR ABBY: How can I meet Prince Charles? I have always admired him, and it has been my dream to meet him one day, but I'm not having any luck.

I've written him several letters, and each time his secretary has answered, saying: "The Prince of Wales regrets that he is unable to meet you."

I am a normal, intelligent 20-year-old college girl. I'm told I am pretty and have a pleasing personality. I've read everything I could find about the royal family in general and Prince Charles in particular. I'll bet I know more about the family than most people living in England and the rest of the United Kingdom.

I hope you don't think I'm crazy, but I have even taken horseback riding lessons, and I plan to take flying lessons when I can afford it because I know those are Prince Charles' favorite sports. Also, if we ever meet I will have something to talk about.

Abby, you're supposed to have all the answers. Can you help my dream come true?

CATHY IN BROOKLYN

DEAR CATHY: Sorry, but I don't have the answer to this one. Dreaming is alright but we have to live in the real world. So, wake up, Cathy. Your "Prince Charming" could be someone you've already met-in a Brooks Brothers suit with a Brooklyn accent, yet!

DEAR ABBY: Please settle a family argument. My husband, who is 43, told our daughter, who is 17, that she was "filling out" nicely-then he asked her what her bra size was.

Our daughter became embarrassed, blushed, and said she didn't want to tell him. I came to her defense and said that the question was a personal matter, and I didn't think it was anything her father had to know.

He became angry and said that he was her father and had a right to know! Our daughter was nearly in tears, and I ended the discussion by siding with her, and that is where we left it.

Now my husband is upset with both me and my daughter. Abby, do you think that was a proper question for a father to ask his 17-year-old daughter?

OLD FASHIONED MOM

DEAR MOM: No! Your budding daughter's bra size is none of Dad's business. And while we're on the subject of measuring things, I wonder what your husband's I.Q. is?

DEAR ABBY: I am 35, happily married, and the mother of three. My husband and I enjoy a glass of wine with our dinner. We never become intoxicated or anywhere near it.

My grandparents strongly disapprove of alcoholic beverages, so out of respect to them I never serve it in their presence.

I had eight other guests for dinner, but because my grandparents were here, I omitted the wine, even though my husband and I, my parents, and the other guests would have enjoyed some.

When my husband and I are dining in my parent's home, they always serve wine, but if the grandparents drop in unexpectedly, everyone rushes around hiding the wine bottle and glasses.

I don't want to hurt my grandparents, but I wonder if this is the proper way to handle the wine situation?

DEAR ASKING: Since you and your parents ordinarily enjoy wine at dinner, I think it is unnecessary to ditch the wine when the disapproving grandparents unexpectedly drop in. You're probably not fooling them anyway.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, April 1, the 91st day of 1974. There are 274 days left in the year. This is April Fools' Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1939, Generalissimo Francisco Franco announced that the Spanish Civil War was over, and his government was recognized by the United States.

On this date: In 1578, the English physician and anatomist who first discovered and explained the circulation of blood, William Harvey, was born.

In 1789, the U.S. House of Representatives held its first full meeting, convening in New York.

In 1945, in the Pacific War, an American armada of more than 1,400 ships began the invasion of Okinawa.

In 1946, the United States told Cuba it would give up bases held on the island during World War II.

In 1967, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Pope Paul VI discussed Vietnam and other world problems at a Vatican meeting.

Ten years ago: Francois Duvalier had himself installed as president of Haiti for life.

Five years ago: 134 persons were missing and presumed dead in a coal mine explosion near Muquzi, Mexico.

One year ago: The last known U.S. prisoner of war in Vietnam, Army Capt. Robert White, was released by the Viet Cong.

Today's birthdays: Lady Clementine Churchill is 89 years old. Actress Debbie Reynolds is 42.

Young Adult Class plans activities

The New Holland Methodist Young Adult Class held the March meeting in the church following a potluck supper. Mrs. Nancy Kirk called the meeting to order with an Easter poem entitled "Ring Easter Bell." Mrs. Joyce Conrad and Mrs. Lynda Conrad gave reports. Old and new business was discussed and the class voted to purchase two Easter lilies for the Easter service to be donated to two members of the church after the service. It was also decided to purchase flowers for Mothers Day, as has been done for the past few years.

July 15 is the date for the ice cream social, and final plans for the adult Appreciation supper were made.

The program committee for the April meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bielnow, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil.

Mrs. Larry Elliott is in charge of the nursery for April.

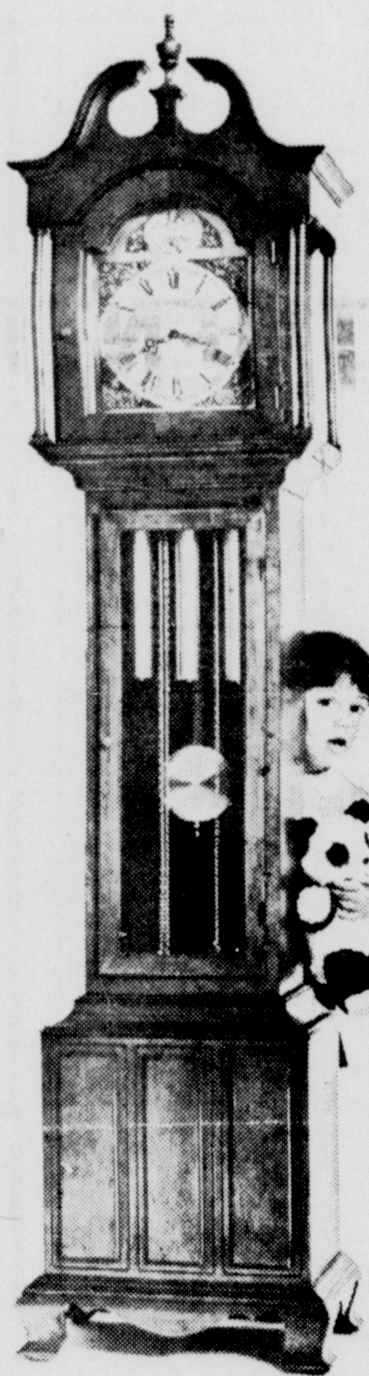

Y-Gradale plans meeting

Members of Y-Gradale Sorority ended Lenten services on Wednesday evening in Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Those attending were Mrs. Jim Kirk, Mrs. Ed Fisher, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Loren Noble, Mrs. Dick Anthony, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Allen Mossbarger, Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. Robert Stanforth, Mrs. Phil Douglass, Mrs. Carl Wilt II and Mrs. Will Braun.

Following the service, the group went to the home of Mrs. William Stoughton for a social evening. Y-Gradale members are reminded that the next regular meeting will be April 8 in the home of Mrs. Fisher. The program will be on "First-Aid."

Delta Kappa Gamma observes 35th year

Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its birthday luncheon Saturday in Grace United Methodist Church to commemorate the 35th year. Alpha Gamma Chapter from Chillicothe joined in the celebration. Seventy-five members attended and 28 of these were from Chillicothe.

Miss Helen Hutson, president, welcomed guests, and the Chillicothe president, Mrs. Stanley Kuntzman, responded for her group. Charter members of Alpha Delta introduced were Mrs. Amelia Pensyl Child, Miss Jane Durant, Mrs. Elton B. Elliott, Miss Margaret Gibson and Mrs. Faye J. Mayo, the first chapter president from 1939-1943.

A candlelight service preceded the buffet meal prepared by the WSCS Ladies of the Church. Members participating were Miss Hutson, Mrs. Tran DelPonte, Mrs. Norman Wilson and Mrs. Peg Morrow. Mrs. John Rhoads led members in group singing.

Members were seated at tables decorated with miniature gold fireside baskets filled with daisies, iris, and baby's breath. At each place setting was a favor wrapped in pretty floral paper. A decorated birthday cake graced the speaker's table. Miss Ruth Stecher gave the invocation.

Mrs. Karl Harper introduced Mrs. Jerry (Alice Craig) Ervin. She has studied Russian, German, French and Spanish in seven language programs in Russia; Dartmouth College, Munich, Germany; Paris, France; and Guadalajara, Mexico. She is currently teaching Russian in Upper Arlington High School in Columbus.

Dressed in a Mexican costume, Mrs. Ervin opened her most interesting presentation with the question, "Why learn a second language?" and answered the question with "Why did you learn the first language?" Ability to speak a foreign language has opened the door to friendship with people of other cultures. Her narration and slide presentation depicted the many interesting and friendly experiences she and her husband enjoyed in the foreign countries because of their inability to speak the language of the country.

Some of these experiences were listening to American records in a Moscow home, Mrs. Ervin's playing in the Oberammergau Village band in Germany and in the Passion Play orchestra, touring the Loire Valley chateaus with a native French woman and speaking French one hour and English the next hour, serving as head counselors at an international summer camp in Switzerland, and living in the luxurious home of a wealthy Mexican family.

She closed her narration by showing a slide of a group of smiling natives of Mexico, and emphasized that "if one goes to the trouble to learn the

Mrs. Bethards WCTU hostess

Mrs. Eldon Bethards extended hospitality to the Washington C.H. Woman's Christian Temperance Union, at her home Friday afternoon.

Meeting was opened with devotions by Miss Mabel Briggs. She read Scripture from the Book of Second Timothy, also an article from American Bible Society literature. In her comments she said 73 per cent of the population has not accepted Christ as their Savior. She read a poem "Windows of Gold" by Helen Steiner Rice and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Cloyce Copley presided during the business session. Reports were read and accepted. The Mid Year Workshop will be April 15, 16 and 17 in Columbus.

Mrs. Ralph Hays presented the program of the afternoon. She reviewed another chapter of the book "Our Heritage". She read of the home of Miss Frances Willard in Evanston, Ill., and of the beautiful antiques — the grandfather clock, spinning wheel, and of the beautiful woodwork in the home. It now houses the W.C.T.U. It is a shrine to the cause and visitors number in the thousands yearly. Mrs. Hays read a news article concerning children who are alcoholic.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Bethards served refreshments. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Norma Dodd, on April 26.

language, one wins their smiles - one shows respect for them by learning their language."

Guests were Miss Geraldine Craig of Kent, and three new members of Alpha Delta Chapter, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mrs. Betty Shipley and Mrs. John Gall. The planning committee was composed of Mrs. Tracy Hoffman, chairman, Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mrs. Mark King, Miss Marjorie Evans and Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter.

CF leaders announce activities

Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls, Leaders Association, held the March meeting at Grace United Methodist Church. Leader chairman Mrs. Ralph Tate, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Jack Ferguson read the minutes from the last meeting.

Mrs. Allen McClung, Executive Secretary, reminded leaders of the work to be done at Camp Murdock before Day Camp begins in June. Leaders were asked to call fathers of all girls in their groups.

Mrs. Charles Zinn, program chairman, told leaders of the final plans for the trip to the Cincinnati Zoo on May 4. There will be seven buses leaving from Eastside School promptly at 8:30 a.m. Groups are to be assembled by 8:00 a.m. She also announced skating parties on April 23 and 30 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Profit from the skating parties go toward camp improvement.

The new counselor camping was discussed and it was decided to hold a special meeting when Camp Director Mrs. Frank Sanderson could be present to answer questions. The meeting will be April 2 at 7:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Camp training will be held May 7 and 8 at the home of Mrs. Sanderson.

The next Leader meeting will be April 23 at 1:00 p.m. at the Grace Methodist Church.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Herb Satterfield.

Members attending were Mrs. Tate, Mrs. James Hamilton, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Howard Gardner, Mrs. Gerald Wheat, Mrs. Dave Shepler, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Satterfield, Mrs. Leo Merritt, Mrs. Jane Marcum, Mrs. McClung, Mrs. Paul Sullivan, Mrs. Delbert Knisley, Mrs. James Valentine, Mrs. Charles Harris and Mrs. Zinn.

Secretarial Seminar April 20

The Buckeye Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) is pleased to announce the second annual Secretarial Seminar.

The program will be presented at the Scioto Technical College in Lucasville on April 20 (Saturday), and is designed to interest commercial students, teachers, secretaries, stenographers, clerical workers, and members of management.

Representatives from education and industry will contribute their talents toward making this seminar a worthwhile event.

Registration fee is $8.00 per person, which includes lunch at the college. Students may attend for $4.00. Checks should be made payable to the Buckeye Chapter, NSA, and mailed to Mrs. Constance A. Eckhart, CPS, Rt. 4, Box 240, Lucasville (45648), along with the registration blank.

C.J. Nicley has birthday

C. J. Nicley was given a surprise birthday party at his home on the Bogus Rd. by his friends. He was also surprised with gifts from his family and friends.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran of Dayton, Mrs. Berneva Chamberlain, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Nicley and his brother Rod.

Ohioana Library annual tea is planned

The county chairmen and co-chairmen of The Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library have been invited by Governor and Mrs. John J. Gilligan to hold their Annual Tea at the Governor's Mansion Bexley, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Mayo will represent Fayette county at this event which is annually sponsored by Ohioana Library as one of its important projects in promoting and publicizing the literary and musical accomplishment of Ohioans, and in gaining recognition for Ohio's authors and composers.

She will bring as guests Mrs. Richard P. Rankin, and Miss Marian Moore.

At this traditional event the chairmen of Ohio's 88 counties are asked to give brief resumes of their county activities promoting Ohio authors and supporting the Ohioana Library.

Dr. Merrill Patterson, President of the Board of Trustees, will preside at the workshop-program. There will be greetings from Mrs. Mills Judy, daughter of Mrs. M.K. Cooper, founder of Ohioana Library and from the Director, Mrs. Bernice Williams Foley.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of the Lucille Loy Kuck Ohioana Awards Contest for the winning essays by high school students of Ohio. Mrs. Kuck of New Knoxville, the donor of these awards, will be present, as will Minnie Hite Moody, Granville, Ohio, who is the judge of this contest.

Youth Activities

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP CLUB

Money-making projects were the main topics of the March Junior Leadership club meeting. The first suggestion was a slave auction, which includes selling members for 4-8 hours worth of work. Fayette county sheriff, Don Thompson, will be the auctioneer. The tentative place and date is April 20th at 10:30 a.m. on the Courthouse lawn. The club also voted to clean up Marion Township to raise money to send seniors to Washington D.C. at the end of year.

New business include that National Report forms are due at the next meeting. Junior leaders are also needed to help organize various new clubs in the county. Camp counselors for beginner's and junior camp were also announced. It was reported that 12 members attended the Camp Counselor's Workshop held at Camp Proctor.

Following adjournment, Sheila Gordon, Miami Trace's A.F.S. student for this year, gave a very interesting talk and showed slides of her home country South Africa.

The next meeting will be April 24 at the Extension office.

Rare babies celebrate 1st birthday

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Michelle and Angela Wright, two of the rarest babies on record, celebrated their first birthday Sunday.

Technically not twins although born at the same time, the baby girls were born from separate and independent uteri.

"It's been a special weekend for the babies and us," said the babies' mother, Lisa Wright, now 18.

The dual uterus births are so rare Dr. Stephen Hornstein said he's only been able to find records of one other such happening.

The two girls were premature and weighed less than five pounds at birth.

"We weren't sure Angela was going to make it," said Mrs. Wright. Dr. Hornstein said both of the girls were fortunate not to develop serious health problems due to their initial weight and respiration difficulties.

"They don't have any problems except being spoiled," said Mrs. Wright.

"They're like their mother and father now," she added. "They like to sleep a lot, thank heavens."

The babies are not walking yet, but when they begin "I'm going to handcuff them together," laughed Mrs. Wright.

Red writer claims press made error

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn says that American newspaper commentators mistakenly interpreted his "Letter to the Soviet Leaders" as a call for nationalism.

The exiled Soviet writer, in an interview Sunday, said mutual understanding between the Soviet and American peoples "is particularly essential and is very difficult to establish from afar, using the superficial and often insufficiently thought-out judgments of the daily press."

"Here is a recent example," he continued. "My 'Letter to the Soviet Leaders' was, even before its publication in the United States, subjected in the press, beginning with The New York Times, to primitive and even mistaken interpretations in contradiction to its real meaning. My program set down in this letter is a deduction from that general belief that nations and people can attain their supreme spiritual results only at the price of voluntary self-limitation in the outside world, concentrating exclusively on their internal development."

"For this reason, I suggested that my country should unilaterally renounce all conquests abroad and violence against all nations near and far, renounce all world pretensions and all kinds of international rivalry, in particular ... the arms race."

"I suggested that all this should be done on a scale far exceeding that which they dream of achieving by nuclear 'detente' and such a program was interpreted by American newspaper commentators as nationalism, that is the ideology of the warlike expansion of one's nation. The very idea of following the most recent technological recommendation of the Club of Rome was characterized as 'utopianism' and 'a call for return to the past.' In this way, the press is capable of introducing incomprehension between distant parts of the planet rather than internal understanding."

The Club of Rome is an international association of scientists and industrialists that sponsors studies and discussion meetings of statesmen and experts on major problems.

Ohio's weekend accident toll 9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine persons, five of them pedestrians, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

A three-year-old Columbus boy was killed as he darted across a Lawrence County road Saturday, and a 93-year-old Coshocton man died the same day when struck at a Coshocton intersection. A Cleveland woman died crossing a street Sunday.

According to the patrol, drivers fled after two other pedestrians were killed — a 77-year-old Napoleon man early Saturday and a hitchhiker in Mansfield Friday night.

One man died when his car collided with a train Saturday in Miami County. There were no multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

The dead:

SUNDAY
CLEVELAND — Virginia Hutchinson, 24, of Cleveland, hit as she crossed a Cleveland street.

LORAIN — Donald Bennett, 18, of Lorain, in a three-car accident on Quarry Road in Lorain County.

SATURDAY
IRONTON — Britton Dale Dean, 3, of Columbus, hit as he darted across a county road in Lawrence County.

COSHOCTON — Charles M. Kreis, 93, of Coshocton, struck while crossing a street at a Coshocton intersection.

PIQUA — William Conover, 86, when his car collided with a train south of Piqua in Miami County.

CINCINNATI — Douglas L. Nields, 28, of suburban Clevs, when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 128 near Miami town.

MARTINS FERRY — Joseph A. Brodzik Jr., 28, of Martins Ferry, in a one-car crash on U.S. 40 just east of Ohio 214 in Belmont County.

NAPOLEON — James Hoffman, 77, of Napoleon, when struck on Ohio 108 five miles south of Napoleon in Henry County.

Book fair opens Tuesday

Washington Junior High School will sponsor a student book fair Tuesday through Thursday. Students will be able to browse and purchase books.

The book fair will be open during school hours on those three days. Books will be on display in Room 237.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project, Mrs. Mary Lorane Davis, librarian says. All profits will be used for library materials.

The Junior Bookworms group is sponsoring this event, with Mrs. Davis serving as chairman. The committee is composed of student library aides. Mothers of several students will help with the project.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges — books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies.

OCSEA chapter to meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Fayette County chapter of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Landmark feed plant, Old Chillicothe Rd.

Gary Johnson, chapter president, said Frank Ebner, an OCSEA staff representative, will speak on new legislation recently approved by the Ohio General Assembly relating to public employees.

Johnson said all public employees and their guests are invited to attend.

adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books.

The committee is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books.

Young Adult Class plans activities

The New Holland Methodist Young Adult Class held the March meeting in the church following a potluck supper. Mrs. Nancy Kirk called the meeting to order with an Easter poem entitled "Ring Easter Bell." Mrs. Joyce Conrad and Mrs. Lynda Conrad gave reports. Old and new business was discussed and the class voted to purchase two Easter lilies for the Easter service to be donated to two members of the church after the service. It was also decided to purchase flowers for Mothers Day, as has been done for the past few years.

July 15 is the date for the ice cream social, and final plans for the adult Appreciation supper were made.

The program committee for the April meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bielewicz, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil.

Mrs. Larry Elliott is in charge of the nursery for April.

Members of Y-Gradale Sorority ended Lenten services on Wednesday evening in Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Those attending were Mrs. Jim Kirk, Mrs. Ed Fisher, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Loren Noble, Mrs. Dick Anthony, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Allen Mossbarger, Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. Robert Stanforth, Mrs. Phil Douglass, Mrs. Carl Wilt II and Mrs. Will Braun.

Following the service, the group went to the home of Mrs. William Stoughton for a social evening. Y-Gradale members are reminded that the next regular meeting will be April 8 in the home of Mrs. Fisher. The program will be on "First-Aid."

Delta Kappa Gamma observes 35th year

Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its birthday luncheon Saturday in Grace United Methodist Church to commemorate the 35th year. Alpha Gamma Chapter from Chillicothe joined in the celebration. Seventy-five members attended and 28 of these were from Chillicothe.

Miss Helen Hutson, president, welcomed guests, and the Chillicothe president, Mrs. Stanley Kuntzman, responded for her group. Charter members of Alpha Delta introduced were Mrs. Amelia Pensyl Child, Miss Jane Durant, Mrs. Elton B. Elliott, Miss Margaret Gibson and Mrs. Faye J. Mayo, the first chapter president from 1939-1943.

A candlelight service preceded the buffet meal prepared by the WSCS Ladies of the Church. Members participating were Miss Hutson, Mrs. Tran DelPonte, Mrs. Norman Wilson and Mrs. Peg Morrow. Mrs. John Rhoads led members in group singing.

Members were seated at tables decorated with miniature gold fireside baskets filled with daisies, iris, and baby's breath. At each place setting was a favor wrapped in pretty floral paper. A decorated birthday cake graced the speaker's table. Miss Ruth Stecher gave the invocation.

Mrs. Karl Harper introduced Mrs. Jerry (Alice Craig) Ervin. She has studied Russian, German, French and Spanish in seven language programs in Russia; Dartmouth College, Munich, Germany; Paris, France; and Guadalajara, Mexico. She is currently teaching Russian in Upper Arlington High School in Columbus.

Dressed in a Mexican costume, Mrs. Ervin opened her most interesting presentation with the question, "Why learn a second language?" and answered the question with "Why did you learn the first language?" Ability to speak a foreign language has opened the door to friendship with people of other cultures. Her narration and slide presentation depicted the many interesting and friendly experiences she and her husband enjoyed in the foreign countries because of their inability to speak the language of the country.

Some of these experiences were listening to American records in a Moscow home, Mrs. Ervin's playing in the Oberammergau Village band in Germany and in the Passion Play orchestra, touring the Loire Valley chateaus with a native French woman and speaking French one hour and English the next hour, serving as head counselors at an international summer camp in Switzerland, and living in the luxurious home of a wealthy Mexican family.

She closed her narration by showing a slide of a group of smiling natives of Mexico, and emphasized that "if one goes to the trouble to learn the

Mrs. Bethards WCTU hostess

Mrs. Eldon Bethards extended hospitality to the Washington C.H. Woman's Christian Temperance Union, at her home Friday afternoon.

Meeting was opened with devotions by Miss Mabel Briggs. She read Scripture from the Book of Second Timothy, also an article from American Bible Society literature. In her comments she said 73 per cent of the population has not accepted Christ as their Savior. She read a poem "Windows of Gold" by Helen Steiner Rice and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Cloyce Copley presided during the business session. Reports were read and accepted. The Mid Year Workshop will be April 15, 16 and 17 in Columbus.

Mrs. Ralph Hays presented the program of the afternoon. She reviewed another chapter of the book "Our Heritage". She read of the home of Miss Frances Willard in Evanston, Ill., and of the beautiful antiques — the grandfather clock, spinning wheel, and of the beautiful woodwork in the home. It now houses the W.C.T.U. It is a shrine to the cause and visitors number in the thousands yearly. Mrs. Hays read a news article concerning children who are alcoholic.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Bethard served refreshments. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Norma Dodd, on April 26.

language, one wins their smiles - one shows respect for them by learning their language."

Guests were Miss Geraldine Craig of Kent; and three new members of Alpha Delta Chapter, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mrs. Betty Shipley and Mrs. John Gall. The planning committee was composed of Mrs. Tracy Hoffman, chairman, Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mrs. Mark King, Miss Marjorie Evans and Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter.

CF leaders announce activities

Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls, Leaders Association, held the March meeting at Grace United Methodist Church. Leader chairman Mrs. Ralph Tate, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Jack Ferguson read the minutes from the last meeting.

Mrs. Allen McClung, Executive Secretary, reminded leaders of the work to be done at Camp Murdock before Day Camp begins in June. Leaders were asked to call fathers of all girls in their groups.

Mrs. Charles Zinn, program chairman, told leaders of the final plans for the trip to the Cincinnati Zoo on May 4. There will be seven buses leaving from Eastside School promptly at 8:30 a.m. Groups are to be assembled by 8:00 a.m. She also announced skating parties on April 23 and 30 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Profit from the skating parties go toward camp improvement.

The new counselor camping was discussed and it was decided to hold a special meeting when Camp Director Mrs. Frank Sanderson could be present to answer questions. The meeting will be April 2 at 7:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Camp training will be held May 7 and 8 at the home of Mrs. Sanderson.

The next Leader meeting will be April 23 at 1:00 p.m. at the Grace Methodist Church.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Herb Satterfield.

Secretarial Seminar April 20

The Buckeye Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) is pleased to announce the second annual Secretarial Seminar.

The program will be presented at the Scioto Technical College in Lucasville on April 20 (Saturday), and is designed to interest commercial students, teachers, secretaries, stenographers, clerical workers, and members of management.

Representatives from education and industry will contribute their talents toward making this seminar a worthwhile event.

Registration fee is $8.00 per person, which includes lunch at the college. Students may attend for $4.00. Checks should be made payable to the Buckeye Chapter, NSA, and mailed to Mrs. Constance A. Eckhart, CPS, Rt. 4, Box 240, Lucasville (45648), along with the registration blank.

C.J. Nicley has birthday

C. J. Nicley was given a surprise birthday party at his home on the Bogus Rd. by his friends. He was also surprised with gifts from his family and friends.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran of Dayton, Mrs. Berneva Chamberlain, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Nicley and his brother Rod.

Also present to extend best wishes were Lynne Acton, Suzanne Sicker, Diane Rodgers, Karla Johnson, Sharon Baird, Lisa Grubbs, Brenda Morris, Joan Jordan, Lana Ekins, Larry Bitzel, Jimmy Hixon, Robbie James, Mike Duntion, Jon Wilt, Dennis Combs, Brian Zurface and Andy Pope.

The county chairmen and co-chairmen of The Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library have been invited by Governor and Mrs. John J. Gilligan to hold their Annual Tea at the Governor's Mansion Bexley, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Mayo will represent Fayette county at this event which is annually sponsored by Ohioana Library as one of its important projects in promoting and publicizing the literary and musical accomplishment of Ohioans, and in gaining recognition for Ohio's authors and composers.

She will bring as guests Mrs. Richard P. Rankin, and Miss Marian Moore.

At this traditional event the chairmen of Ohio's 88 counties are asked to give brief resumes of their county activities promoting Ohio authors and supporting the Ohioana Library.

Dr. Merrill Patterson, President of the Board of Trustees, will preside at the workshop-program. There will be greetings from Mrs. Mills Judy, daughter of Mrs. M.K. Cooper, founder of Ohioana Library and from the Director, Mrs. Bernice Williams Foley.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of the Lucille Loy Kuck Ohioana Awards Contest for the winning essays by high school students of Ohio. Mrs. Kuck of New Knoxville, the donor of these awards, will be present, as will Minnie Hite Moody, Granville, Ohio, who is the judge of this contest.

Youth Activities

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP CLUB

Money-making projects were the main topics of the March Junior Leadership club meeting. The first suggestion was a slave auction, which includes selling members for 4-8 hours worth of work. Fayette county sheriff, Don Thompson, will be the auctioneer. The tentative place and date is April 20th at 10:30 a.m. on the Courthouse lawn. The club also voted to clean up Marion Township to raise money to send seniors to Washington D.C. at the end of year.

New business include that National Report forms are due at the next meeting. Junior leaders are also needed to help organize various new clubs in the county. Camp counselors for beginner's and junior camp were also announced. It was reported that 12 members attended the Camp Counselor's Workshop held at Camp Proctor.

Following adjournment, Sheila Gordon, Miami Trace's A.F.S. student for this year, gave a very interesting talk and showed slides of her home country South Africa.

The next meeting will be April 24 at the Extension office.

Rare babies celebrate 1st birthday

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Michelle and Angela Wright, two of the rarest babies on record, celebrated their first birthday Sunday.

Technically not twins although born at the same time, the baby girls were born from separate and independent uteri.

"It's been a special weekend for the babies and us," said the babies' mother, Lisa Wright, now 18.

The dual uterus births are so rare Dr. Stephen Hornstein said he's only been able to find records of one other such happening.

The two girls were premature and weighed less than five pounds at birth.

"We weren't sure Angela was going to make it," said Mrs. Wright. Dr. Hornstein said both of the girls were fortunate not to develop serious health problems due to their initial weight and respiration difficulties.

"They don't have any problems except being spoiled," said Mrs. Wright.

"They're like their mother and father now," she added. "They like to sleep a lot, thank heavens."

The babies are not walking yet, but when they begin "I'm going to handcuff them together," laughed Mrs. Wright.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine persons, five of them pedestrians, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

A three-year-old Columbus boy was killed as he darted across a Lawrence County road Saturday, and a 93-year-old Coshocton man died the same day when struck at a Coshocton intersection. A Cleveland woman died crossing a street Sunday.

According to the patrol, drivers fled after two other pedestrians were killed — a 77-year-old Napoleon man early Saturday and a hitchhiker in Mansfield Friday night.

One man died when his car collided with a train Saturday in Miami County.

There were no multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

The dead:

SUNDAY

CLEVELAND — Virginia Hutchinson, 24, of Cleveland, hit as she crossed a Cleveland street.

LORAIN — Donald Bennett, 18, of Lorain, in a three-car accident on Quarry Road in Lorain County.

SATURDAY

IRONTON — Britton Dale Dean, 3, of Columbus, hit as he darted across a county road in Lawrence County.

COSHOCTON — Charles M. Kreis, 93, of Coshocton, struck while crossing a street at a Coshocton intersection.

PIQUA — William Conover, 86, when his car collided with a train south of Piqua in Miami County.

CINCINNATI — Douglas L. Nields, 28, of suburban Cleves, when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 128 near Miamitown.

MARTINS FERRY — Joseph A. Brodzik Jr., 28, of Martins Ferry, in a one-car crash on U. S. 40 just east of Ohio 214 in Belmont County.

NAPOLEON — James Hoffman, 77, of Napoleon, when struck on Ohio 108 five miles south of Napoleon in Henry County.

Book fair opens Tuesday

Washington Junior High School will sponsor a student book fair Tuesday through Thursday. Students will be able to browse and purchase books.

The book fair will be open during school hours on those three days. Books will be on display in Room 237.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project, Mrs. Mary Lorane Davis, librarian says. All profits will be used for library materials.

The Junior Bookworms group is sponsoring this event, with Mrs. Davis serving as chairman. The committee is composed of student library aides. Mothers of several students will help with the project.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges — books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies,

OCSEA chapter to meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Fayette County chapter of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Landmark feed plant, Old Chillicothe Rd.

Gary Johnson, chapter president, said Frank Ebner, an OCSEA staff representative, will speak on new legislation recently approved by the Ohio General Assembly relating to public employees.

Johnson said all public employees and their guests are invited to attend.

Payment of Mahan Building maintenance OK'd by board

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners Monday morning approved an agreement with the Fayette County Agricultural Society to contribute funds for the maintenance of the Mahan Building on the Fairground.

Commissioners approved a payment of $3,000 per year on a year-to-year basis for the maintenance of the Mahan Building after hearing a report from Eddie Kirk, president of the Fayette County Fair Board, and George Finley, board secretary.

The commissioners and the Fair Board members had previously been bound to a 10-year verbal agreement for the $3,000 annual payment, but the agreement had expired.

KIRK EXPLAINED to commissioners that the Fair Board has experienced $3,665 in expenses for maintenance of the building recently, including a new roofing project and sewer and restroom improvements. The Fair Board charges $50 for the rental of the building.

The payment of $3,000 will come from the county's general fund revenue and will be paid twice per year.

Kirk said the debt on the Mahan Building will be retired in July, 1980. The Fair Board pays $450 per month. Kirk also said the debt on the new horse barn will be retired in 1982. The board pays $1,600 twice a year on that debt.

Commissioners will be attending a dinner meeting of the Fayette County Fair Board at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the Mahan Building.

The board also agreed to subscribe to an annual updating service of the Ohio Revised Code for various county offices.

Two area bands at district meet

Both the Washington Senior High School and the Miami Trace Symphonic Band received "average" ratings from judges at Wilmington High School Saturday.

They were two of more than 20 schools judged in the Ohio Music Educators Association's District 14 band contest.

Although Charles Shaffer, director of the WSHS band, left before all of the judging was completed, he said that only two schools in the first half of the competition received a higher ranking. At that point Wilmington had received a superior rating, and Springboro had been rated excellent. Those rated superior will appear later in statewide competition.

The bands were required to play three selections of their own choice for which they could prepare. They were then given a selection by the judges to sight-read. Paul Febo, music director at Miami Trace, was happy that his group received an excellent rating on the sight-reading selection.

There are 86 student musicians in the Miami Trace Symphonic Band, and 71 members in the Washington Senior High Concert Band.

In other matters, Reginald (Chink) Davis, county dog warden, submitted 35 reports for the week.

Commissioners will be viewing the proposed Kellough ditch improvement project, located along Ohio 41-N, at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Slate hearings on advertising by utility firms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings will resume Tuesday morning and continue at least another week on a request before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to limit utilities' advertising, an official said.

Ruth Siegfried, the hearing examiner, said scheduled witnesses in the opening session include Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. and the Ohio Environmental Services Corp.

Hearings began Feb. 26 on the proposed ban on advertising by the electric utilities to promote power consumption. The request was entered by the Ohio Public Interest Action Group, Inc.

PUCO has issued an interim order to halt the advertising except where it advocates or promotes power conservation.

Kite Day event draws 20 kids

The first Community Education "Kite Day" was held Sunday afternoon after rain forced its postponement from Saturday.

Twenty participants brought their kites to Eyman Park and the variety of kite shapes and sizes testified to the amount of time and work spent making them.

Scott Beard was the outstanding winner, capturing prizes for largest kite, the highest flying kite, and the most colorful kite in his age division.

Other winners included Tony Mart, Gale Cook and Vicky Straley for most unique kites; Angela Cook and Vicky Straley for most colorful; Brenda Cook for highest flying; and Debbie Crider for largest flying kite.

Each contestant received a kite donated by Seaway and a soft drink provided by Sagar's. Other prizes were donated by Scott's, Stop 'N Go, TSC, Pizza Hut, Roberts Drive-In, French's, Steen's, Murphy's, Risch and Downtown Drugs, Boylan and Cannon, and the Washington Savings Bank.

Judging was handled by six members of the Mother's Circle.

A number of area residents were on hand to watch the competition.

Edward Kennedy Jr. home from hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy Jr. is out of the hospital again, with doctors reporting no sign of recurrence of the bone cancer that cost him part of his right leg last November.

The 12-year-old son of the Massachusetts senator had been in Children's Medical Center for the fourth of a series of treatments. He left the hospital Sunday.

Group meetings set in Humanities Series

Six group discussions have been scheduled for the second two-day visit of Dr. Ronald L. Cummings, a Wittenberg University professor, in the spring National Humanities Series program in Washington C.H.

Dr. Cummings, who opened the spring series here last month, will be in Washington C.H. Tuesday and Wednesday.

He will be a guest speaker at the regular noon luncheon meeting of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club Tuesday in the Country Club and will appear at the meeting of the Naomi Circle of Lutheran Church Women in the home of Mrs. Darrell DeBolt, 1278 Dayton Ave., at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Wittenberg University professor will then make a local television appearance at 5:30 p.m. before an open discussion meeting in the Carnegie Public Library at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The public is invited to attend the discussion session at the library.

On Wednesday, a discussion group will meet in the home of Mrs. Robert J. Lee, 521 E. Market St., at 10 a.m., and Dr. Cummings will lead a discussion during the Community Outreach program luncheon at noon in the First Presbyterian Church.

Stolen car recovered

A car stolen sometime Friday night has been recovered by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

The car belonging to the late Ralph L. Bray, Staunton-Jasper Road, was recovered by Sheriff's Sgt. John L. Emrick, stuck in the mud behind the sewage disposal plant on Elm Street. It was stolen from Bowland Lanes, CCC-Highway-W, sometime Friday evening.

Sgt. Emrick made the recovery at 3:15 p.m. Saturday. He stated the car incurred no apparent damage.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, London, is assisting the Sheriff's Department investigation by lifting fingerprints.

Mrs. Daphne Hastings, Xenia, went back to the restroom after discovering she had not put her diamond ring, valued at $1300, on her finger after washing her hands. It was gone.

The loss occurred at the Washington C.H. Eagles Lodge, 320 Sycamore St., during a dance on Dec. 8, police were told by the woman last Wednesday.

Puckett's blast Superior 102-77

Capture fifth Jaycees tourney

Dayne Puckett's All-Stars, sponsored by Boatman's Nursery of Bainbridge, walked by Superior Carpet 102-77 in the final game of the fifth annual Jaycees Invitational basketball tournament Sunday.

The most successful tournament to date, saw Puckett's defeat a tired Superior Carpet team. The Wilmington based team, was the winner of the losers bracket and played in three games Saturday and three straight games Sunday to lose in the finals.

In Saturday's nine game slate Superior Carpet led off the action with a 99-82 win over Sardinia Merchants

Beef drawing

In the "Beef-for-a-Buck" drawing Saturday night at the Jaycees basketball tournament, three winners were named.

First prize of 1/2 of a beef went to Scott Case, second prize of a hind quarter went to Robert Fernung and third prize of a front quarter went to Donald Bernard.

Circleville Oil downed Sabina Bank 113-77 in the second game. Washington Savings Bank defeated Dave Dennis Volkswagen 107-92 in the third game. The fourth game had Dayne Puckett's All-Stars squeezing by Eldon Roberts 111-99. The fifth game Superior Carpet defeated Circleville Oil 89-83. Harris Auction pacted Circleville Oil 110-81 in the sixth game. Puckett's defeated Washington Savings Bank 95-84 in the seventh game. Superior Carpet eliminated Dave Dennis Volkswagen 89-75 in the eighth game and Eldon Roberts defeated Harris Auction 102-95 in the ninth game.

Sunday's action saw Superior Carpet walk by Eldon Roberts 89-79 in the first game and defeat Washington Savings Bank 92-87 in the second game.

In the second contest Sunday, Junior Rollins tallied 32 points for Superior will Phil Snow backing him up with 20. Gary Shaffer led the Bank with 38 points followed by Les Shaffer with 31.

The final game started at 7:00 p.m. after a three and a half hour break.

Puckett's broke out on top in the first quarter and never gave the lead back. Going into the second frame Puckett's led 20-13 and at halftime held a 39-33 lead.

Starting the second half Puckett's scored nine straight points in the first two minutes while holding Superior scoreless. Once Superior got back on the scoring track Puckett's lead was too great to overcome.

Bowlands 400, 500 winners released

Results of Bowland Lanes annual 400 and 500 event, that was held Sunday, were released today.

In the 500 tournament Mike Patton was the first place finisher with a 572 series and a 99 pin handicap for a 671 total. Patton received $30 for the event. Second place went to Dennis Holloway with a 553 and a 81 pin handicap for a 634 series. Holloway collected $18. Ernest Stanforth was third with a 633 winning $12; fourth place went to James Morris with a 622 winning $7.50 and fifth went to Jerry Hamby with a 621 winning $5.

In the 400 tournament Helen Pfeifer was first with a 471 actual and 105 pin handicap for a 576 total. She received $25. Second place went to Catherine Jordan with a 574 for $15. Third place went to Reta Clary with a 570 for $10; and fourth place went to Connie Batson with a 568 for $5.

Other finishers in both the 500 and 400:

The third quarter score had Puckett's ahead 68-49 with the final score being 102-77.

Superior Carpet played its substitutes part of the third quarter and all of the fourth period but Puckett's would have won even with Superior's starters in the game.

Familiar Ohio University faces led Puckett's All-Stars to the win. Bill Brown and Denny Thompson paced the scoring with 27 and 26 points respectively with Denny Rusch and Dick Vories backing the duo up with 17 and 16 points.

Superior Carpet was led by Tim Wilson with 18 points followed by Ron Rockhold with 16 Phil Snow and Gary Rinehart back them up with 11 and 10 points.

Following the tournament the Jaycees presented team trophies to both the winner and the runner-up and also presented individual trophies to the winners.

Top dragster, 2 mechanics are killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Anderson, a race driver for 21 years, wanted a shot at Gary Gabelich's world land speed record. He'll never get it.

Anderson, 43, died Saturday when his rocket-propelled dragster crashed at Charlotte, N.C. Two other persons were killed in the accident.

Carlos Reutemann, a broad-shouldered comparative newcomer from Argentina, had forecast last year that 1974 would be his big year on the international Formula I Grand Prix circuit.

Saturday, Reutemann won the South African Grand Prix. Only 10 days ago, American star Peter Revson had met his death in a crash while testing for the race.

Anderson, who labeled himself "the world's fastest shoe" and called his hydrogen peroxide dragster the "Pollution Packer," had set 13 international speed records at Bonneville, Utah, last September.

He had planned to go back later this year with a much stronger rocket car and shoot for Bagelich's existing mark of 622 miles an hour.

Capital defeats Knicks 99-87 in NBA playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We know we can beat the Knicks now," declared Capital's Elvin Hayes. "This is just what we needed to win it all."

Hayes and the rest of the Bullets were brimming with confidence Sunday after dumping New York 99-87 to even their best-of-7 National Basketball Association Eastern Conference semifinal playoff series at one game each.

"Against the Knicks, the players have the attitude that they're too tough to beat, and they go into a game tight," Hayes explained. "These games loosen you up because you know they can be beaten and that attitude carries over into the next game."

In Hayes' case, the confidence is not hard to understand. The 6-foot-9 former Houston All-American has collected 74 points in the first two games, despite an

King and Baney optioned by Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds enter the opening week of baseball without two 1973 heroes.

Missing are catcher Hal King, whose pinch hit homers ignited the Cincinnati pennant surge, and castoff pitcher Dick Baney, who returned from obscurity to nail down the title-winning victory.

Both were optioned Sunday to the Reds' farm team in Indianapolis. The two took the news without bitterness.

"I could see it coming," said King, referring to the invasion of hard-hitting newcomers.

"I'm just happy to be in baseball," said Baney. "I'm going over there — Indianapolis — and do the best I can."

The moves reduced the Reds' roster to the opening day limit of 25.

It also meant pitchers Pat Osburn and Mike McQueen have temporarily won jobs with the defending National League challengers.

Earlier Sunday the Reds absorbed an 8-3 loss to Detroit as the Tigers struck for four-run innings off starter Don Gullett and reliever Tom Hall.

King's departure marked the third lefthanded hitter cut from the squad this week. Joe Hague and Larry Stahl were released on waivers.

King became a darling of Reds' fans last July when he blasted a two-out, pinch hit homer to score three runs in a ninth inning rally against leagueleading Los Angeles. The Reds went on to sweep the double header and roared back from an 11-game deficit to win a third division title. "I had to decide who I would rather have for a base hit, King or Cesar Geronimo," said Manager George "Sparky" Anderson.

The decision to cut Baney hurt, said Anderson, but the young hurler's attitude impressed the Reds' field boss. "That is the all-time man. I've been in baseball 20 years and a manager for nine years and I've never met a man like that before."

Baney, when told the news, replied: "You treated me like a man. Other teams don't call you, they just tell you to report to the minor league camp."

Baney was released by three different clubs last year, before getting another chance with the Reds' Indianapolis farm team. His 8-4 record earned him a late-season promotion and he made the most of it.

He had a 2-1 record with the Reds in 11 appearances. But his 9.00 earned-run average this spring hurt his chances.

Willie Horton's four RBIs on a single, double and home run keyed Detroit's victory. Lerrin LaGow was the winning pitcher.

Dave Concepcion had a solo homer for the Reds.

Csonka, Warfield, Kiick

Dolphins lose three to WFL

TORONTO (AP) — Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick — gears in the Miami Dolphins' grind-it-out offense — have jumped for an estimated $3.5 million to the Toronto Northmen of the World Football League, giving the fledgling league almost instant respectability.

"We're guaranteed this money," said Kiick after the signings, effective for the 1975 season and for three years, were disclosed Sunday. "If we get hurt, if we die, if the WFL doesn't get off the ground, we still get it."

The trio — Warfield is a receiver, the other two are running backs — will play out their 1974 options with the team which they helped win the last two National Football League championships.

Miami Coach Don Shula, however, said he might not even play the three this coming season. But Csonka discounted any reprisal by Shula, saying, "He wants to win the Super Bowl again and so do we."

Each earned about $60,000 last season as Dolphins, plus the extra money — $15,000 each in the Super Bowl — for playoff victories.

No breakdown on how the $3.5 million would be divided among the three was disclosed. Presumably, Csonka would get the most money.

Kiick said the other 11 teams in the WFL, which will begin play in July, contributed $1 million to the contracts, highest priced deals ever in pro football history.

"I am disappointed, shocked, sick, whatever" a bitter Joe Robbie, managing general partner of the Dolphins, said in Miami Sunday night after the jump was announced in Toronto. "I feel (player agent) Ed Keating took three of our players to Canada who were in a frame of mind to come back and listen when they left."

But Robbie said the Dolphins weren't concerned about any legal action "at this point."

Csonka, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards the past three seasons, said his financial future was a primary consideration in the move.

"In this case, it is one of the considerations, of course," the bull-necked fullback said, "but there are others.... the Toronto club offered us more than we anticipated — even more than we had asked for in the exploratory package."

Robbie said he had asked Keating to return with the players from Toronto, where negotiating sessions took place, adding that the "$3 million wouldn't burn in two days." But, Robbie said Keating responded with a "take it or leave it" attitude and the Dolphin official refused to negotiate by phone.

"Everyone knows how I feel about them," Shula said. "They are great players. We were in a unique situation of being able to go after our third Super Bowl in a row next season. Our thought was to do everything possible to get everyone back."

Antique show, sale attract big crowds

Large crowds of antique fanciers attended Phi Beta Psi sorority's third annual antique show and sale which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairground.

Mrs. Portia Cunningham said more than 1,300 persons viewed and purchased a wide variety of antiques and other related items Sunday. Antique dealers from several states including Florida were present.

Ron Hall and Mark Boultinghouse, show managers, expressed satisfaction with this year's show by announcing plans to return next spring.

The Country Crafts for Cancer booth, a new feature of the antique show, was a cooperative venture with the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society, the sorority and other community residents serving as active participants.

More than $1,100 was realized as profit for the Fayette County Unit for cancer research. Of that amount, approximately $380 worth of craft items and cash were donated to the Marta Schaeper Memorial Fund here.

A Victorian doll replica, created by Mrs. Henry Best, was won by Mrs. Don Kirk, and an afghan donated by Mrs. Will Braun was won by Mrs. Susan Friend, of South Solon.

Mrs. Alfred Hagler Jr. and Mrs. Willis Coffman were co-chairmen of the third annual antique show. The craft booth committee consisted of Mrs. Ralph Gebhart, Mrs. Donald Wald and Mrs. James Cunningham.

March moisture falls below norm

March precipitation in Washington C.H. totaled 3.31 inches, .68 below the 3.99-inch average for the month, records kept by Coyt A. Stookey, official weather observer for the city, disclose.

Precipitation for the first quarter of the year now stands at 8.24 inches of snow and rain. This is 1.57 inches below the 9.81-inch average for the January through March period.

There was either rain or now on 16 of March's 31 days, ranging from a trace on the 13th to .91 inch on the 16th.

Daily minimum temperatures for the month ranged from a low of 5 on the 23rd to a high of 63 on the 8th. Daily maximums ranged from a low of 27 on the 24th to a high of 79 on the 8th.

Here are the actual Washington C.H. precipitation figures for the first quarter of 1974 as compared with the established averages:

	Act.	Av.
January	2.94	3.38
February	1.99	2.44
March	3.31	3.99
Totals	8.24	9.81

Street, road crews have heavy schedule

A variety of miscellaneous work projects have been outlined by the city street, county road and state highway department crews this week.

Bill Duncan, general foreman of the city street department, said the city crews will be repairing alleys and sealing streets in various locations throughout Washington C.H. Duncan also said there is a possibility that the crews will be constructing manholes.

Drainage projects will be occupying county road workers, according to Charles P. Wagner, Fayette County engineer.

Wagner said the county crews will be working on drainage projects on Sollars Road in Concord Township near Sabina and the Washington-Waterloo Road.

County workmen will also be installing large culverts on Miami Trace and Sollars roads in addition to clearing rubbish from along roadways and cutting brush.

Eugene Fitzpatrick, superintendent of the Ohio Department of Transportation garage in Fayette County, said his crews will be cleaning mowing equipment for the annual spring inspection which will be held at 10 a.m. April 16.

The state workers will also be completing a crack-sealing project on Ohio 753-S, running berm drags and picking up trash.

Washington Inn restaurant opens

The Washington Inn restaurant opened for business at 5:30 a.m. Monday after being closed for nearly two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Thompson, of Washington Manor Court, who recently leased the bar and restaurant, will serve meals from 5:30 a.m. until 10 p.m. six days a week. The restaurant will be open from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Sunday. However, if there is sufficient demand the Sunday hours may be extended to include breakfasts, they said.

Final approval of the operation is required before the state will allow the liquor license to become effective, and an inspection is scheduled for the near future.

When the license becomes effective, the bar will remain open until 2:30 a.m.

Winners announced by Goodyear store

Winners of the Grand Opening prizes given away by the new Goodyear store have been announced by Paul Bruckner, store manager.

Mrs. John O'Conner, 622 Yeoman St., will soon be able to drive the by-ways of Washington C.H. on four new Polyglas tires while Don Gray, Sabina, won his way out of the kitchen by taking home a new Westinghouse dishwasher.

Terry Adams, U.S. 35, was the winner of a Westinghouse humidifier, and Elmo Purdin, Rt. 5, Washington C.H., won a portable television set.

Buckner said he was most enthusiastic about the welcome extended by area residents during the opening of the new store.

Carbon monoxide blamed for deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said that Marvin Blasley, 24, and his 21-year-old wife, Shelia, whose bodies were found Sunday evening in their Columbus home, apparently died Saturday night of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Authorities blamed a faulty space heater.

FIRST DELIVERY — Mrs. Harry Haines, left, and Mrs. Charles Moore, of Beta Omega chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, in Washington C.H., deliver an advance order of daffodils to James R. Wilson, president of the Fayette County Bank. The sorority sponsored the "Daffodil Days" event Friday and Saturday and raised $1,100 which will be forwarded to the American Cancer Society. Sorority members sold more than 100 dozen flowers in advance sales alone and also sold the flowers on the street Saturday. The Fayette County Bank is sponsoring a booth for the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society at the annual Home Show this weekend. Other sorority members are Mrs. Gary McMurray, Mrs. Jack Shoemaker, Mrs. Ralph Leeds, Mrs. Wayne Clark, Mrs. Steve Jennings and Mrs. Kenneth Everhart.

Elementary School, John Cass, of Wilson Elementary, Margaret Peterson, of Olive Elementary, received their awards from Tom Payton and David Foster (at lectern), who are president and vice president, respectively, of the Miami Trace Science Club.

MT's Science Fair biggest in history

The Miami Trace Science Fair brought a greater turnout Saturday than ever before in the school's history as 124 entrants and hundreds of observers gathered in the high school cafeteria.

Awards were presented to the four top projects in each of four categories, fourth and fifth graders, sixth graders, seventh and eighth graders and high school students.

Winners in the latter category were David Foster, Stuart Foster, Tom Payton and Tom Hawk. Junior high winners were Betty Woods, David Keim, Nancy Wolfe and Gary Foster.

Sixth grade awards were taken by Karl Gass, Bobby Peterson, Nancy Eltzroth, and Beth Barton. Fourth and fifth grade winners were Ben Iden, John Gass, Margaret Peterson and Elizabeth Cunningham.

The sixteen top winners were awarded ribbons, their choice of science magazine subscriptions, $5 science kits and $5 worth of science-oriented paperback books.

Receiving superior ratings and $3 science kits and $3 in paperbacks were Sherry Myers, Lori James, Craig Wilson, Greg Bentley, Joe Forrest, Kevin Birchfield, John Chesnut, Jeff Overly and Alan Thompson.

All of the awards and prizes, donated by local merchants, were presented by Tom Payton, Science Club president, and David Foster, the club's vice president and student chairman of the Science Fair.

A TRAVELING TROPHY

Food giveaway riddled by theft

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Internal thefts and poor administration riddled the mass food giveaway aimed at ending Patricia Hearst's two-month captivity, says the community coalition named to monitor the handouts.

Washington Secretary of State A. Ludlow Kramer, who organized the People in Need program, denied the charges.

The coalition aired its complaints on KPFA radio here Sunday in a prepared statement read by seven representatives of San Francisco Bay area groups.

The speakers declared the $2 million PIN food program suffered from a "general lack of coordination," no regularly scheduled meetings, no defined lines of authority, erroneous news releases, no food checking system and transportation and warehouse troubles.

The Symbionese Liberation Army, which abducted Miss Hearst from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4, named the coalition to monitor the giveaway it demanded as a precondition for Miss Hearst's release.

Kramer replied: "We have no intention of getting into a yelling match with the coalition. We did that for 35 days. I'm sorry the coalition is not concerned with trying to get Patty Hearst back, but only with themselves."

Regarding the so-called ripoffs, Kramer said 500 cases of chicken were for the best performance by one school will be presented to Wilson Elementary. The runner up was Madison Mills Elementary. Judging in the school category was based on the number of students enrolled, the number who had exhibits at the fair and the scores obtained by the contestants. Both schools will receive magazine subscription from the National Science Teachers Association.

All seventh-through 12th grade students who received superior ratings or placed in the overall awards will be eligible to participate in the West District Science Day at Central State University April 6.

Since conservation is an important aspect in world progress today and the Fayette Soil and Water Conservation District is the largest single contributor to the Science Fair, special recognition was given for the top conservation projects. These winners were Bobby Peterson, "Tile Drainage," Kathy Jenkins, "Strip Mining," Robbie James, "Soil Erosion," and Jeff Overly, "Change and Deposits."

There were 34 adult judges, including both area residents and out-of-town guests, and 124 student judges. Approximately 60 area merchants contributed money and prizes for the fair.

Each student who entered a project was given a ticket for admission to the Columbus Center of Science and Industry, located on Broad Street in Columbus.

Harold Gass, teacher at Miami Trace, was the adult coordinator.

Students compete in swine judging

Students from all over Southern Ohio gathered at the Fayette County Fairground Saturday for the Ohio Hampshire Swine Breeders Junior Field Day and State Sale.

The student judging competition was held in the afternoon and the Hampshire sale was held in the early evening.

Miami Trace students captured first place in the senior individual and team judging competition.

Mike Coe, of the Miami Trace FFA, took honors as the top senior judge and joined Scott Jenks and Jim McCoy in the team competition to capture another first.

Debby Fry, of the Warren County Beef Club, Lebanon, took first place in the junior judging competition.

Other area students who finished in the top five in each category were Kevin Adams, of Fairfield, Leesburg, and Chris Garland, Miami Trace, who were second and fourth respectively in the senior judging; Wayne Fisher, Sabina, John Wilt, of Good Hope, and Lori Holloway and Sandy Shaefer, of Bloomingburg, who captured second-through fifth respectively in the junior judging.

THE HAMPSHIRE auction brought a total of $14,983 in sales. The champion and top-selling boar was purchased from Ronald Fielitz, of West Unity, for $675.

The champion and top selling open gilt was purchased from Larry Leffel, of New Knoxville, for $500.

The top bred gilt was brought by Andrews and Baughn, Bloomingburg, and sold for $250. The two top FFA and 4-H project pigs, also owned by Andrews and Baughn, sold for $135 each.

Emerson Marting was the auctioneer, and Charlie Andrews and David Runyon were the co-chairman of the junior judging activities. Dick Nash, Hampshire breeder from Tipton, Ind., and Dr. Gene Isler, swine Extension specialist from Ohio State University, were the adult judges.

Judge orders cash refund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A judge here has ordered a refund of $1.7 million to persons who don't work for the state but are members of the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System.

Common Pleas Court Judge Fred J. Shoemaker ruled the non-state employees are entitled to recover a portion of the contributions they made to the system between Jan. 1, 1973 and July 1973.

The money will go to 129,127 persons not employed by the state who belonged to the system at the time.

Four persons hurt in city crash

Four people were injured in a three-car accident Saturday, city police reported, along with two other accidents.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department charged a Greenfield man with reckless operation and reported two other accidents.

Three cars collided and four people were hurt when a New Rome man apparently "jumped" a red light at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Elm Street at 5:53 p.m. Saturday.

Suffering a minor lip injury was the driver of one of the cars, Mary A. Wilson, 17, of 530 Mayfair Dr. Her car was heavily damaged.

The passenger in one of the other cars, driven by Alva E. Crabtree, 69, of 433 Warren Ave., suffered neck, rib and chest pain. The woman, Rilla Crabtree, 72, of 433 Warren Ave. was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released.

Two children, Frank E. Seiler, 10, and Teddi Carol Seiler, 16, were injured in the badly damaged car, driven by Gene Seiler, 38, New Rome.

Teddi Seiler suffered a knee injury, while Frank Seiler was listed by police as showing visible signs of injury, but the extent was not known.

Seiler was charged with a traffic light violation.

A HITSKIP accident damaged a car owned by Gelina Mullins, 625 Campbell St., while it was parked in front of her residence between 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday, police reported.

A Columbus man was charged by police with backing without safety at 9:05 a.m. Sunday.

Gregory A. Wray, 18, backed into a car driven by Carl D. Hillery, 65, of 617 Broadway, at the intersection of Elm Street and Columbus Avenue, moderate damage resulted and Wray was cited.

A GREENFIELD MAN was charged with reckless operation by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department at 1 a.m. Saturday.

Wayne T. Fout, 16, drove off Ohio Rt. 41, two-tenths of a mile north of the Highland-Fayette County line and slid roadside 370 feet. The car then en-

Gerald Ford's son unhappy with Nixon

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford's son John worked for President Nixon's reelection in 1972. "But of late, I have become disillusioned with him," the younger Ford says of Nixon.

Young Ford made the comment in an interview published Sunday in the Salt Lake City Tribune. "I'm not so sure my father disagrees with me," he said.

Ford also said he doesn't think his father will run for President in 1976.

tered a ditch and struck a road-sign. Damage was moderate.

A car owned by Barbara Lynn Gillett, Rt. 3, was struck by a hitskip driver sometime between 12:15 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. Sunday, while the auto was parked in front of her residence. Sheriff's deputies reported the left front fender damaged.

An accident occurred in the Tractor Sales Co. parking lot, CCC-Highway-W, at 3:40 p.m. Saturday, sheriff's deputies reported.

A parked car owned by Lloyd L. Butcher, Bloomingburg, was struck by a car driven by Michael A. Cruea, 20, Rt. 3, as he backed from a parking place.

Former Nixon aide answers perjury count

Chapin trial under way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jury selection began today for the trial of Dwight L. Chapin, charged with lying to a grand jury about the "dirty political tricks" activities of Donald H. Segretti.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard H. Gesell told a panel of 60 that the trial is expected to "not take more than a week or 10 days."

"I can assure you this is a firm estimate; it will not be a long trial," the judge said.

The jury of 12 and four alternates will be sequestered during the trial.

In the courtroom were Chapin's wife,

Susan, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Chapin.

Chapin, former presidential appointments secretary, was indicted Nov. 29, 1973 on four counts of lying to a grand jury.

Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said that ousted White

House counsel John W. Dean III would be a key government witness against Chapin.

Dean, who pleaded guilty last October to conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in, already has testified as a prosecution witness at the New York trial of former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

Another key prosecution witness will be Segretti, who served five months in a federal correctional facility after pleading guilty to misdemeanor violations of federal election laws. Segretti was released last Monday.

Like Dean, Segretti agreed to cooperate with the special prosecutor's office.

Meanwhile, Vice President Gerald R. Ford has blasted the Committee For the Re-election of the President, describing it in a Chicago speech as an "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents."

Ford spoke Saturday to more than 1,000 midwest Republicans, including GOP National Chairman George Bush and presidential hopeful Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. The audience stood and cheered Ford's biting remarks about the re-election committee.

He said the committee "violated the historic concept of the two-party system in America and ran roughshod over the seasoned political judgment and experience of the regular Republican party organization in the 50 states. The fatal defect of CREP was that it made its own rules and thus made its own ruin," he said.

Later, Ford told a news conference he "spoke as my own man," that his remarks had not been cleared with the White House.

In other Watergate developments, Percy said Sunday in New Haven he expects Nixon to be impeached this year. Meanwhile, sources in Washington said quiet preparations are underway in several Senate offices for a possible impeachment trial. The sources also said other studies are underway by individual senators.

The Chapin indictment said he testified April 11, 1973 before a grand jury investigating Segretti's activities.

Chapin told the grand jury he never discussed the distribution of campaign literature of any kind with Segretti and was unaware that Segretti ever distributed such literature.

The indictment alleged that Chapin's answers "as he then there well knew, were false."

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

After he was indicted Chapin, 33, took a leave of absence from his job as director of market planning for United Air Lines.

A graduate of the University of Southern California, Chapin hired Segretti, a college chum, allegedly to be a Republican prankster in the 1972 campaign.

But Segretti's pranks included the distribution of literature that appeared to come from various candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination and accused others of misconduct. Distributing political literature which does not identify the source is a federal crime.

PATTY, YOUR SHOELACE IS UNTIED! — What April 1 would be complete without hearing that familiar accusation throughout the day? And, how many people will fall for it? The photograph proves Patty Evans did when Pam Bartley tricked her. Better check your own shoelace; it's untied!

Dispute flares over Vietnam commitment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extent to which the United States is committed by the Paris peace agreement to aiding South Vietnam has drawn varying interpretations from the secretary of state and the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger believes that the United States is politically and morally committed to giving long-term military and economic aid to South Vietnam.

Under the Paris agreement,

Kissinger said in a letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., "The United States committed itself to strengthening the conditions which make the cease-fire possible and to the goal of the South Vietnamese people's right to self-determination."

However, Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., responded that the Paris "agreements aren't commitments, they are only a declaration of intent."

Kissinger, wife honeymoon in seclusion at Acapulco

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Acapulco's social set awaited word today on whether the newlywed Kissingers were open to invitations.

But Washington's most fabled swinger appeared intent so far on keeping a veil of privacy around his honeymoon.

Some 60 vacationers lined the Las Brisas dock Sunday and applauded as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and the former Nancy Maginnes pupil to Rockefeller as a foreign policy aide.

Despite the 50-year-old secretary's well-publicized appearances with glamorous stars and starlets, Miss Maginnes, 39, has been his frequent companion for years, and a marriage was rumored for months.

Kissinger broke the news to Rockefeller Saturday morning. "By the way, Nancy and I are getting married," and Rockefeller later announced the wedding to a meeting of midwest Republicans.

The official announcement came from the State Department in the name of Mrs. Albert B. Maginnes of White Plains, N.Y., the bride's mother.

The wedding, attended by a handful of friends and relatives and Kissinger's two children by his previous marriage, took place before a judge in Arlington, Va. Rockefeller lent the newlyweds a jet for the trip to Acapulco.

returned from a three-hour cruise around choppy Acapulco Bay in a speedboat called El Orate — The Lunatic.

Two boatloads of Secret Servicemen trailed El Orate around the bay, then packed into two cars to follow Kissinger's limousine back to banker Eustaquio Escandon's secluded villa overlooking the sea where the couple is staying.

"I'm sure there will be some parties or at least a dinner or two while they're here," said a leading Acapulco socialite wistfully. But he added that the Kissingers had accepted no invitations yet.

"Every man when he gets married is entitled to have some privacy," said a State Department spokesman.

Only a handful of persons knew in advance of Kissinger's wedding Saturday, among them former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mrs. Kissinger's employer.

The former Miss Maginnes, who at almost six feet is noticeably taller than Kissinger, is head of international studies for Rockefeller's Commission on Critical Choices. She and Kissinger met 10 years ago when she enrolled in his foreign policy seminar at Harvard, and the professor recommended his

Wilmington trio shot

WILMINGTON — Three Wilmington residents are in Cincinnati General Hospital with bullet wounds in their heads following what police said may have been an attempted double murder-suicide early Sunday.

Ronald Buck, 36, formerly of the Milledgeville area, and his wife, Bonnie, 24, of Wilmington, are reported in serious condition following surgery. Richard Sloan, 26, also of Wilmington, is in fair condition following surgery.

The trio were found about 4:30 a.m. Sunday. Buck was on the lawn in front of apartments at 126 Randolph St., Mrs. Buck in a car in front of the apartments, and Sloan in a hall stairway inside the building, according to Gary Brannon, Wilmington police dispatcher.

No arrests have been made, and Brannon said the investigation is continuing. Police presently think Buck may have shot his wife and Sloan, who were in Buck's car and then turned the weapon on himself.

Ford employees start layoffs

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Some 50 employees of the Ford Motor Co. stamping plant in Cleveland started a one-week layoff today as a result of production cutbacks that also will affect 500 more Ohio workers.

Ford officials said severe sales slumps are forcing them to shift into lower gear during April.

A layoff scheduled April 15 for 500 Lima engine plant workers will last at least one week, a Ford spokesman said.

See higher prices from steel talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel industry negotiators are beginning two weeks of hard bargaining in what is expected to result in a costly settlement for the industry and higher prices for consumers.

Bargainers for the Big 10 steel producers and the United Steelworkers of America face a self-imposed April 15 deadline to reach accord on a new contract or submit all unresolved issues to binding arbitration.

The talks get underway today with both sides anxious to avoid arbitration on major issues. A settlement is expected that is likely to follow the pattern shaped earlier this year in USW contracts with the aluminum and can industries.

USW President I.W. Abel has indicated he is seeking a wage increase above 10 per cent to "reflect at least increases in the cost of living plus productivity" for his 350,000 members employed by the 10 major steelmakers.

Barring unforeseen developments, all wage-price controls on the industry will be dropped by April 30, leaving producers free to pass on increased wages and benefits in the form of higher steel prices.

The bargaining is taking place under an historic "experimental negotiating agreement" signed a year ago which precludes strikes or lockouts and guarantees the workers a minimum wage increase of 3 per cent in each of the next three years. In addition, each worker will receive a one-time $150 bonus.

The no-strike agreement was reached in an effort to break the so-called "boom-bust" cycle that has characterized recent steel negotiations.

The current three-year contract, under which steel workers average $5.78 an hour in wages, expires Aug. 1. If the aluminum and can settlements are extended to steel, wages in the industry would rise about 12 per cent, or 65 cents an hour, over the next three years, in addition to the nine per cent increase already agreed upon.

An improvement in the wage cost-of-living formula that added nearly 40 cents an hour to paychecks under the current contract also is expected.

But the main emphasis is expected in the pension area, where the union is

Pope Paul VI fights weakness

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appears to have recovered from his second attack of influenza in a month, but Vatican sources say he is still weak, often in pain and needs a long rest.

The sources say the 76-year-old Pope is being strongly advised against resuming the full schedule of work and reading that, until a few weeks ago, ran from dawn until past midnight.

The Vatican did not elaborate on the Pope's illness last week except to say that it was a slight indisposition. The sources said it was a recurrence of the flu that hit him earlier in March.

The Pope ran a slight fever and canceled his weekly general audience on Wednesday. He did bless the crowd from his study, however.

On Sunday, the Pope spoke from the open window of the study to the crowd in St. Peter's Square. His voice was firm and he appeared fit.

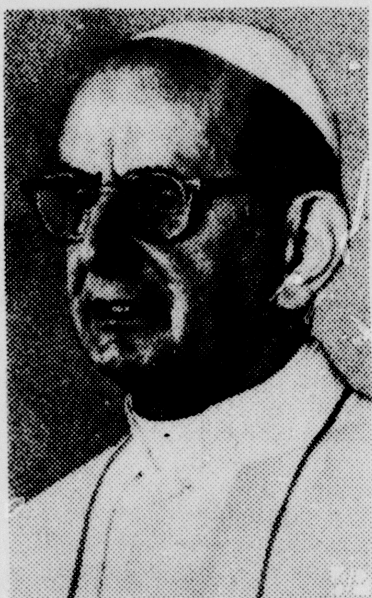

But the Vatican sources said the two flu attacks have aggravated an old and painful disease afflicting the joints. The disease, which the sources did not identify, reportedly is the reason why the pontiff, always frail, has for some years walked with a slight stoop and has needed help sitting down and standing up.

The influenza and pains in his joints are said to have sapped the Pope's strength, making him very weak, one source said. There is talk that he may be advised to take mud treatments at a spa, most likely on the island of Ischia, off Naples.

"If he doesn't rest," one prelate said, "the pains will never go away, and soon the slightest of movements will be difficult."

Some Vatican sources say doctors may even ask the Pope to delegate some of his functions to aides.

So far the pontiff has been a stubborn patient — "disobedient," a Vatican doctor once called him. He has always been anxious to return to his desk, audiences and speeches.

FAYETTE COUNTY Auditor Mary Morris announces that the Homestead Exemption office, located in the Courthouse building, opened Monday morning.

Mrs. Morris said persons applying for Homestead exemptions are required to register each year, and this year's deadline is June 3. Applicants are required to bring their last tax bills or property deeds when applying so that it will be known what property an exemption can be granted for.

The office, located in the basement of the Courthouse building across from the county engineer's office, is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 until 4 p.m.

ABSENTEE VOTING for the May 7 primary election in Fayette County will open April 7, according to Mrs. Mary Jean Jennings, elections director.

The deadline for absentee voters is 4 p.m. May 2. Parents of college students may contact the Board of Elections and ask that applications for ballots be sent to the students. Other persons who will not be in Fayette County for the primary election may cast their ballots at the board office during the April 7-May 2 period.

Major bills face Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Campaign financing reforms, no fault auto insurance, and a bill establishing a state energy commission face Ohio's lawmakers today as they begin a three-day week leading to a month long recess.

Leaders said those are the major items but others may be considered by committee sessions and floor deliberations. The legislature will adjourn Wednesday and return May 8, the day after the primary election.

A joint conference committee is seeking to work out Senate-House differences on the campaign financing bill. But it hit a snag at the first meeting last week that could produce an all out deadlock.

Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D—89 New Boston, said the House will not comply with Senate demands for language that would give new life to the political career of Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R—4 Middletown.

However, Riffe pointed out that the six-member conference committee is considering differences that do not include what has come to be known as "the Lukens amendment." He said "It wasn't in the Senate version and it wasn't in the House version. They are supposed to consider only the differences in the bill."

The House State Government Committee, in its deliberations, inserted language that would take care of Lukens' problem. However, Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D—6 Cleveland, who offered the amendment, said he also did it on behalf of about 600 other persons in Ohio under the same penalty, including about 350 in the Cleveland area.

Riffe indicated the dispute could kill the bill, noting that the House deleted the Sweeney amendment soundly when it reached the floor. "It could very well mean the life of the bill," he said. The Senate Financial Institutions, Insurance, and Elections Committee is expected to vote late today on a bill giving Ohio a no fault insurance law. It would mean that a motorist injured in an accident could collect from his own insurance company, no matter who was to blame, up to a limit of $1,500.

Leaders of both parties predict approval tonight by a joint subcommittee of a measure designed to deal with any existing or future energy crisis. The basics of the measure were agreed to last week by members of the panel headed by Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R—7 Cincinnati.

The family grocery bill declined slightly during March, the first such drop in five months, an AP market-basket survey shows.

More items went up in price than went down. But sales on meat and eggs cut the dollar value of the market-basket in nine of 13 cities checked, with an average decrease of 2.2 per cent. It was the first month since October that marketbasket declines outnumbered increases.

The AP priced 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest check showed that 32.3 per cent of the items in the survey went up in price during March, 1974; 24.6 per cent decreased; 36.4 per cent were unchanged; and 7.7 per cent were unavailable on one of the two survey dates.

The marketbasket decreases ranged from a fraction of a per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., to 4 per cent in Boston where the price of a pound of chopped chuck dropped from $1.49 to $1.09.

The bill was up in four cities — Seattle, Wash., New York, Miami and Philadelphia — with an average increase of 1.6 per cent.

Prices in every city were higher at the beginning of April 1974 than they were on March 1, 1973. The market-basket bill was up an average of 13.3 per cent over the 13-month period, with increases ranging from 6 per cent in Los Angeles to 25 per cent in Philadelphia.

Meat sales helped cut the bill. All-

beef frankfurters, for example, declined in 11 cities during March and stayed the same in two. The average decline was 9 per cent. The average price for a pound of allbeef franks on March 1, 1973, was $1.09. On March 1, 1974, the average price was $1.35 and on March 30, 1974, it was $1.24.

Eggs decreased in 10 cities, down four or five cents to about 75 cents a dozen in most places. The price increased in two cities, New York and Detroit, and was unchanged in Philadelphia.

Chocolate chip cookies were up in 12 cities during March, rising an average of 5 per cent. They were unavailable in one city. The average price of a 14-ounce bag of cookies was 61 cents on March 1, 1973; 75 cents on March 1, 1974; and 79 cents on March 30, 1974, for an over-all increase of 30 per cent. Sugar was up at the retail as well as the wholesale level. A five-pound bag of granulated sugar that cost an average of 68 cents on March 1, 1973, cost $1.00 12 months later and was up to $1.17 in the latest survey, for an over-all increase of 72 per cent. Sugar went up in all 13 cities during both February and March, with an average March increase of 17 per cent.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, pork chops, frozen orange juice, coffee, paper towels, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and sugar.

The cities covered by the survey were: Atlanta, Albuquerque, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Providence, R.I., Philadelphia, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Seattle.

Fight public aid to private schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The traditional Catholic parochial school will survive financially without public aid because the church is "property-rich," but it needs broader support from its own members.

That is the philosophy expressed by Dr. G. Weir Hartman, executive director of the Ohio Free Schools Association.

The OFSA held a day-long conference Saturday to build its support of "public education, religious freedom and separation of church and state."

Dr. Hartman, a Columbus Methodist minister, said the organization views "with great alarm" the diversion of public funds away from public schools into private education.

It has filed an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief in the American Civil Liberties Union federal court case against the Ohio legislature. The ACLU is trying to halt an $81.4 million distribution of state money for special services to private schools.

"We want to protect public education and prevent anything that hurts it," Dr. Hartman explained during an interview.

He claimed that two-thirds of Catholic parents now enroll their children in public schools to take advantage of available services out of reach of the parochial schools.

Dr. Hartman said the successful private schools are those which do not accept public money and public limitations.

He said the OFSA would advocate the closing of private schools because a single system would unite communities. He disclaimed the theory that a shutdown of parochial schools would flood public schools systems.

"Public funding for private education violates the basic principle of the first amendment," Dr. Hartman said. "It comes religion and political power."

Donald Traxler, president of the Ohio Education Association, told the conference the OEA regards public aid to private schools as a step toward the destruction of public education.

"It (aid) is a step toward racial, social and economic isolation of children," Traxler said.

Other conference speakers included Dr. Joseph Skehan, of Bloomsburg, Pa., president of the National Association of Catholic Laity; Dr. James V. Panoch, of Dayton, coordinator of the Public Education Religion Studies Center, Wright State University; and Anne Lindsay, of Cleveland, chapter president of Americans United.

KSU parents rap White House 'intrusion'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Parents of some of the Kent State University students who were killed or wounded May 4, 1970 have attacked the White House for what they call "inappropriate intrusion" into the Justice Department investigation of the shootings.

A statement issued Sunday following a meeting of the parents charges that politics delayed convening a federal grand jury to investigate the 1970 incident.

The parents' meeting came two days after a federal grand jury returned indictments charging eight former National Guardsmen with violating the civil rights of students who were shot at Kent.

About 20 persons attended the private meeting, including parents of three of the four slain students and some of the wounded students.

Mrs. Louis A. Schroeder of Lorain, whose son, William, was killed at Kent, said members of the group have met regularly since the shootings nearly four years ago.

She read a statement after the meeting saying it appeared "there has been political interference with the judicial process."

The parents suggested that the delay in convening the grand jury might become part of the deliberations of the House Judiciary Committee during its impeachment investigations.

The statement charged that former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell's "decision in August 1971 not to allow a federal grand jury was made at a time when he was already actively engaged in the management of (President) Nixon's re-election campaign."

The statement said Mitchell's decision came "in the face of the strong conclusions of the Scranton Commission that the shootings were 'unnecessary, unwarranted and inexcusable.'"

Mrs. Schroeder said a major concern of the group "has been the failure of the Justice Department to convene a federal grand jury within a reasonable period of time after the Scranton Commission and the FBI investigations."

The statement added that "as recently as May 1973, shortly before Mr. (Elliot N.) Richardson reopened the investigation, the White House specifically ruled out the convening of a federal grand jury, and the White House commented specifically that if a grand jury were convened, no indictments would result."

"This was an inappropriate intrusion by the White House into the affairs of the judicial branch of government."

Gondola falls; man killed

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — A hot air balloon drifted into high wires near Cambridge Sunday night, shearing off the gondola, authorities said. One man was killed and two injured in the fall to the ground.

The Guernsey County Sheriff's department identified the men as Clyde "Skip" Jacobs, the pilot, and Dr. Richard Whiteleather, both of Cambridge, and Tom LaBlue of El Paso, Tex.

Jacobs died in Guernsey County Memorial Hospital shortly after the crash, officers said. The other two men were in serious condition.

The sheriff's department said the balloon was drifting about two miles east of Cambridge when it hit the lines. Officers estimated the gondola and its occupants fell between 70 and 80 feet.

Heating fuel prices lowered

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) lowered its price for home heating oil and diesel fuel by .3 cent per gallon today and announced there will be no change this month in its gasoline prices.

The announcement also applied to gasoline sold by Sohio in adjacent states, the spokesman said.

The decrease brought home heating and diesel fuels to 33.1 cents per gallon, the spokesman said.

Retail gasoline prices remained at 51.8 cents per gallon for regular and 55.8 cents per gallon for premium. Sohio also had no gasoline price boost last month.

Sohio agrees allocations are legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and Sohio have settled a disagreement over the fuel allocation program, but it came too late to help the National Lubricating Co. of Brilliant.

Nevertheless, the settlement may have an impact on the oil companies if fuel shortages persist among distributors and suppliers.

The commission and Sohio were at odds after the state ordered the oil company to sell 60,000 gallons of gasoline to National early in March.

National distributes Texaco gasoline to 13 stations in the Steubenville area.

But an official of National said Texaco had exhausted its set aside allocation by the first week of March and the Brilliant company needed gasoline.

Sohio had argued that the commission did not have the authority to force them to sell to competitors in distress.

The commission contended that Federal Energy Office regulations permitted the state to order distributions as it deemed necessary to meet current demands.

Over the weekend, John Minnis, assistant coordinator for the PUCO's allocation program, said Sohio officials "agreed that we have the right to transfer gasoline between competing companies."

However, Minnis said Sohio was granted some concessions. He said competitors must pay cash to Sohio, Sohio dealers will be denied supplies to meet the needs of competitors and gasoline will be transferred in trucks not identified with the competitor.

Despite the agreement, National will not need its 60,000 gallons, at least for the time being.

Minnis said the delivery could not be made before today, the first of the month, when National will begin receiving its April allocation from Texaco.

Help for the elderly

Nearly four months ago the Senate acted to do something about the nation's shoddy treatment of the aged. By a vote of 66 to 8, it approved a bill which among other things authorizes Medicare payment of the cost of prescription drugs used in the home for treatment of chronic illness.

Unfortunately the measure has since then remained bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Our youth-oriented society does little enough for the elderly. This would be rectified in part by such legislation. Many past retirement age are sick, but not sick enough to require hospitalization or nursing home care.

Often drug expenses consume a significant share of their meager resources.

There can be no decent evasion of society's responsibility to ease this part of the heavy burden carried by persons whose earning power is gone or gravely diminished.

The bill passed by the Senate also includes the so-called work bonus program whereby the government would modestly supplement the income of families which subsist on poverty-level wages. This expenditure of tax money in behalf of the working poor also appears to be desirable social legislation.

It may be, however, that doubts about the latter provision are holding up the bill in the House committee. If this is the case, perhaps the two should be considered separately.

The financial pressure on the elderly suffering from chronic illness ought to be alleviated without further delay. Once that was done, the work bonus plan for low-income could then be dealt with on its merits.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

'Federalism' vs. industrial violence

The "New Federalism," to which the Nixon Administration has made half-hearted obeisance, has an ancient and honorable intellectual lineage.

Two liberal stalwarts of the pre-Earl Warren Supreme Court, Louis Brandeis and Felix Frankfurter, were vociferous in their championship of the right of individual states to experiment for themselves in economic matters. But so-called liberalism, in the era of the "Imperial Presidency" that actually began with the Administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has more or less repudiated the Brandeis-Frankfurter concept of decentralization.

The big labor unions, in their drive to homogenize the entire U.S. economy, have very little sympathy for the "New Federalist" approach.

Individual states, however, can still benefit by making up their own minds when it comes to dealing with economic matters. The 19 states that have Right-to-Work laws have demonstrated that insistence on free choice in union membership fosters industrial development without leading to union busting.

Other states are discovering that industry can be attracted or repelled by local attitudes toward enforcing the law that supposedly protects individuals or corporations against violence in labor disputes.

NOT TOO LONG AGO, the Dow Chemical Co. planned a multi-million-dollar expansion of its Hargling Rock complex in Ironton, Ohio. But during a 1971 strike, 12 rifle shots were fired into Dow buildings, and four shotguns blasts damaged an automobile parked near one of the Dow factories. Other shots narrowly missed the driver of a moving car, and private unarmed security guards were physical victims of the strike-caused violence.

When the Dow Co. tried to get police protection from state highway patrolmen, it ran into the Ohio law, which specifically prohibits the use of state police as peace officers in labor disputes. Since then a Republican representative in the State Legislature, Charles E. Fry, has introduced a bill that would lift that ban. But Rep. Fry has been too late with his effort to save the projected Dow Chemical expansion at Ironton. Unable to defend its own property and personnel against picket-line violence in Ohio, the Dow Co. diverted its expansion to Allyn's Point in Connecticut. There is no Connecticut ban on calling in state law enforcement officers to deal with local strike violence if town officials are unable to provide protection.

The Dow Co.'s action is a warning to states such as Ohio and Wisconsin that they will be cutting off their collective noses — and the noses of union labor as well — if they persist in denying protection to individuals caught between the contenders in labor disputes.

THE HANGING ROCK area of Ohio, where Dow was anxious to expand, actually needs new industry. Not without reason it has been called "the Appalachia of Ohio."

It happens to have the good water supply needed in the chemical business. But there will be no expansion at Hanging Rock as long as the State of Ohio refuses to extend its police protection to areas where local law enforcement is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

Connecticut's good future in pulling a Dow plant complex away from Ohio is testimony to the vitality of the Brandeis-Frankfurter conception of liberalism. With the states competing with each other to provide police protection against industrial violence, we may look forward to a change in the Ohio law.

The union leadership in Washington, D.C., will protest that Connecticut, in its guarantee of protection against violence, is a "reactionary" commonwealth. But Justices Brandeis and Frankfurter, as precursors of the New Federalism, knew better.

Nobody ever called them reactionaries.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Herbert Stein of the President's Council of Economic Advisers said today he thinks the worst of the country's business slowdown may be over. He predicted inflation during the second half of the year may be about five per cent.

While still high, the 5 per cent rate would be about half the 10 per cent rate of inflation of the past 12 months.

Another member of the council, William J. Fellner, said he didn't think interest rates would decline until inflation does.

"It is hard to imagine lower interest rates before we start decelerating from high inflation rates," Fellner said at the council's regular monthly briefing on the economy.

No change in bedsheet ballots

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both political parties want to do something about the so-called bedsheet election ballots in Ohio, but no change is expected this year.

Democrats will wait to see what comes out of their special national mini-convention at Kansas City next December—first such conclave for a major party in the middle of a presidential term.

Delegate selection to the regular national convention is a prime topic for the Kansas City meeting. Selections in Ohio under present law are the main reason ballots look like bedsheets in primary years.

The thrust of the national effort, however, is a state-by-state system of choosing delegates to give the party more equal representation.

Two alternate approaches to the problem are being discussed.

The Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission is nearing completion of a recommendation that would place the method of selecting delegates in the hands of the legislature.

Delegate selections now are left up to the parties themselves. In recent years, and particularly in 1972, with the use of the so-called McGovern guidelines, Democrats found themselves in many states in an outright war with each other. Ohio was no exception.

A Senate-approved resolution pending in the House and carrying the approval of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown would spell out in the constitution a new method that would get away from the lengthy ballot.

Candidates for a national convention would not have their names listed on the ballot. Instead, they would pledge themselves to a presidential candidate prior to the election. The names of the presidential contenders would be on the ballot. Winners would have ready-made slates.

A vote for the presidential candidate would also be a vote for each delegate or alternate delegate candidate who declared beforehand that the presidential contender was the candidate of his or her choice.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Wake up! Charles is not your Prince Charming

DEAR ABBY How can I meet Prince Charles? I have always admired him, and it has been my dream to meet him one day, but I'm not having any luck. I've written him several letters, and each time his secretary has answered, saying: "The Prince of Wales regrets that he is unable to meet you."

I am a normal, intelligent 20-year-old college girl. I'm told I am pretty and have a pleasing personality. I've read everything I could find about the royal family in general and Prince Charles in particular. I'll bet I know more about the family than most people living in England and the rest of the United Kingdom.

I hope you don't think I'm crazy, but I have even taken horseback riding lessons, and I plan to take flying lessons when I can afford it because I know those are Prince Charles' favorite sports. Also, if we ever meet I will have something to talk about.

Abby, you're supposed to have all the answers Can you help my dream come true?

CATHY IN BROOKLYN

DEAR CATHY: Sorry, but I don't have the answer to this one. Dreaming is alright but we have to live in the real world. So, wake up, Cathy. Your "Prince Charming" could be someone you've already met—in a Brooks Brothers suit with a Brooklyn accent, yet!

DEAR ABBY: Please settle a family argument. My husband, who is 43, told our daughter, who is 17, that she was "filling out" nicely—then he asked her what her bra size was.

Our daughter became embarrassed, blushed, and said she didn't want to tell him. I came to her defense and said that the question was a personal matter, and I didn't think it was anything her father had to know.

He became angry and said that he was her father and had a right to know! Our daughter was nearly in tears, and I ended the discussion by siding with her, and that is where we left it.

Now my husband is upset with both me and my daughter. Abby, do you think that was a proper question for a father to ask his 17-year-old daughter?

OLD FASHIONED MOM

DEAR MOM: No! Your budding daughter's bra size is none of Dad's business. And while we're on the subject of measuring things, I wonder what your husband's I.Q. is?

DEAR ABBY: I am 35, happily married, and the mother of three. My husband and I enjoy a glass of wine with our dinner. We never become intoxicated or anywhere near it.

My grandparents strongly disapprove of alcoholic beverages, so out of respect to them I never serve it in their presence.

I had eight other guests for dinner, but because my grandparents were here, I omitted the wine, even though my husband and I, my parents, and the other guests would have enjoyed some.

When my husband and I are dining in my parent's home, they always serve wine, but if the grandparents drop in unexpectedly, everyone rushes around hiding the wine bottle and glasses.

I don't want to hurt my grandparents, but I wonder if this is the proper way to handle the wine situation?

ASKING

DEAR ASKING: Since you and your parents ordinarily enjoy wine at dinner, I think it is unnecessary to ditch the wine when the disapproving grandparents unexpectedly drop in. You're probably not fooling them anyway.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, April 1, the 91st day of 1974. There are 274 days left in the year. This is April Fools' Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1939, Generalissimo Francisco Franco announced that the Spanish Civil War was over, and his government was recognized by the United States.

On this date: In 1578, the English physician and anatomist who first discovered and explained the circulation of blood, William Harvey, was born.

In 1789, the U.S. House of Representatives held its first full meeting, convening in New York.

In 1945, in the Pacific War, an American armada of more than 1,400 ships began the invasion of Okinawa.

In 1946, the United States told Cuba it would give up bases held on the island during World War II.

In 1967, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Pope Paul VI discussed Vietnam and other world problems at a Vatican meeting.

Ten years ago: Francois Duvalier had himself installed as president of Haiti for life.

Five years ago: 134 persons were missing and presumed dead in a coal mine explosion near Muzquiz, Mexico.

One year ago: The last known U.S. prisoner of war in Vietnam, Army Capt. Robert White, was released by the Viet Cong.

Today's birthdays: Lady Clementine Churchill is 89 years old. Actress Debbie Reynolds is 42.

Thought for today: For every minute you are angry, you lose 60 seconds of happiness. — Ralph Waldo Emerson, American writer, 1803-1882.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT

AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "QB VII," a made-for-television movie based on Leon Uris' best-selling novel of the same name, will be with us for quite a while on ABC — the network says 6½ hours in all — next April 29 and 30.

Although record-setting wasn't what producer Douglas Cramer had in mind, he says it's the longest made-for-TV film ever aired, exceeding even NBC's four-part "Blue Knight" miniseries.

Cramer, 42, who struck some kind of blow for candor by saying the show actually runs five hours and 20 minutes without commercials, titles and station breaks, said ABC never set any time limit for the movie.

The simple reason it's as long as it is, he said, is because Barry Diller, an ABC executive who commissioned it, felt that "a great many books have been ruined by being compressed arbitrarily for two or three hours of screen time." And Diller wanted to right this wrong.

Since some miniseries have proved successful and TV audiences have shown they'll watch hit theatrical films even when these are aired over a two-night period, "why not buy books and do them (for TV) at whatever length they hold up?" Cramer said.

He said Diller's instructions after "QB VII" was bought in April 1971 — the price was $250,000 — were simply: "Go write a script and let's see how long it takes to tell the story without truncating it."

The book concerns the lives of a novelist and a physician, the latter forced by the Nazis during World War II to perform illegal operations in concentration camps.

The novelist names the physician as a war criminal in a book; the doctor sues for libel; and their legal war ends at a trial in London.

Putting the story to film involved a 340-page script, 150 speaking parts, four months of shooting in the United States, Belgium, Israel and England and a total production cost of $2.5 million, Cramer said.

Although some made-for-TV movies have been re-rased in theaters overseas, this video extravaganza won't be trimmed in length to go that route, Cramer said. It'll be sold only for television.

This, he added, "is because its potential in the television market is so sure-fire, judging from the reception it's had so far, is that it's guaranteed money in the bank."

Plane crashes;

2 persons killed

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Two men died Sunday afternoon when their single engine aerobatic training plane crashed near Xenia.

The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the victims as Brian Houston and Scott Norman Dillon.

The patrol said the crash occurred about 5 p.m. The plane hit the ground vertically. The engine was buried by the impact.

Tenenbaum gets Metzenbaum post

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Judy Tenenbaum, former key campaign official for Gov. John J. Gilligan, was appointed Franklin County coordinator in the senatorial nomination campaign of U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio.

Mrs. Tenenbaum also was a field coordinator for the Ohio Democratic Party. Her husband is the governor's press secretary.

Young Adult Class plans activities

The New Holland Methodist Young Adult Class held the March meeting in the church following a potluck supper. Mrs. Nancy Kirk called the meeting to order with an Easter poem entitled "Ring Easter Bell." Mrs. Joyce Conrad and Mrs. Lynda Conrad gave reports.

Old and new business was discussed and the class voted to purchase two Easter lilies for the Easter service to be donated to two members of the church after the service. It was also decided to purchase flowers for Mothers Day, as has been done for the past few years.

July 15 is the date for the ice cream social, and final plans for the adult Appreciation supper were made.

The program committee for the April meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bielnow, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil.

Mrs. Larry Elliott is in charge of the nursery for April.

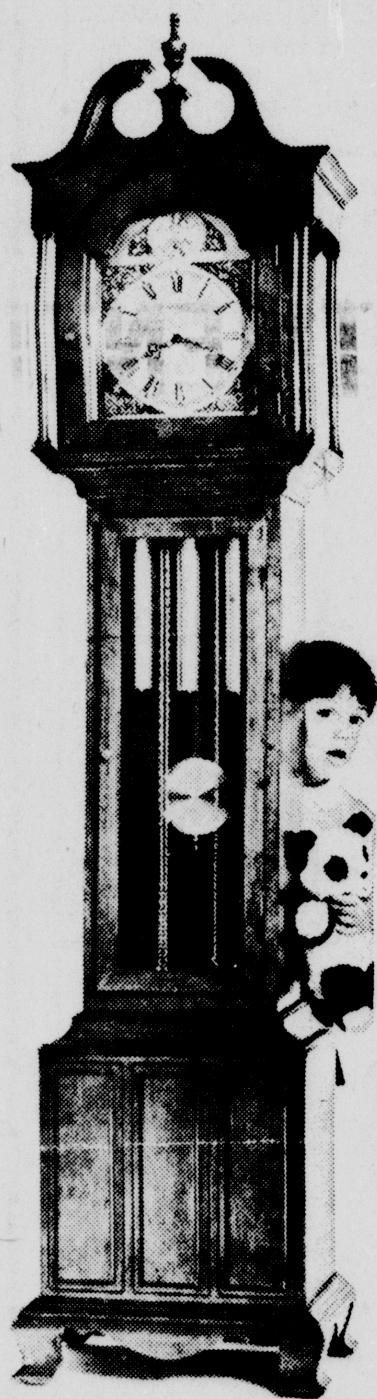

Y-Gradale plans meeting

Members of Y-Gradale Sorority ended Lenten services on Wednesday evening in Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Those attending were Mrs. Jim Kirk, Mrs. Ed Fisher, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Loren Noble, Mrs. Dick Anthony, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Allen Mossbarger, Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. Robert Stanforth, Mrs. Phil Douglass, Mrs. Carl Will II and Mrs. Will Braun.

Following the service, the group went to the home of Mrs. William Stoughton for a social evening. Y-Gradale members are reminded that the next regular meeting will be April 8 in the home of Mrs. Fisher. The program will be on "First Aid."

Delta Kappa Gamma observes 35th year

Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its birthday luncheon Saturday in Grace United Methodist Church to commemorate the 35th year. Alpha Gamma Chapter from Chillicothe joined in the celebration. Seventy-five members attended and 28 of these were from Chillicothe.

Miss Helen Hutson, president, welcomed guests, and the Chillicothe president, Mrs. Stanley Kuntzman, responded for her group. Charter members of Alpha Delta introduced were Mrs. Amelia Pensyl Child, Miss Jane Durant, Mrs. Elton B. Elliott, Miss Margaret Gibson and Mrs. Faye J. Mayo, the first chapter president from 1939-1943.

A candlelight service preceded the buffet meal prepared by the WSCS Ladies of the Church. Members participating were Miss Hutson, Mrs. Tran DelPonte, Mrs. Norman Wilson and Mrs. Peg Morrow. Mrs. John Rhoads led members in group singing.

Members were seated at tables decorated with miniature gold fireside baskets filled with daisies, iris, and baby's breath. At each place setting was a favor wrapped in pretty floral paper. A decorated birthday cake graced the speaker's table. Miss Ruth Stecher gave the invocation.

Mrs. Karl Harper introduced Mrs. Jerry (Alice Craig) Ervin. She has studied Russian, German, French and Spanish in seven language programs in Russia; Dartmouth College, Munich, Germany; Paris, France; and Guadalajara, Mexico. She is currently teaching Russian in Upper Arlington High School in Columbus.

Dressed in a Mexican costume, Mrs. Ervin opened her most interesting presentation with the question, "Why learn a second language?" and answered the question with "Why did you learn the first language?" Ability to speak a foreign language has opened the door to friendship with people of other cultures. Her narration and slide presentation depicted the many interesting and friendly experiences she and her husband enjoyed in the foreign countries because of their inability to speak the language of the country.

Some of these experiences were listening to American records in a Moscow home, Mrs. Ervin's playing in the Oberammergau Village band in Germany and in the Passion Play orchestra, touring the Loire Valley chateaus with a native French woman and speaking French one hour and English the next hour, serving as head counselors at an international summer camp in Switzerland, and living in the luxurious home of a wealthy Mexican family.

She closed her narration by showing a slide of a group of smiling natives of Mexico, and emphasized that "if one goes to the trouble to learn the

Mrs. Bethards WCTU hostess

Mrs. Eldon Bethards extended hospitality to the Washington C.H. Woman's Christian Temperance Union, at her home Friday afternoon.

Meeting was opened with devotions by Miss Mabel Briggs. She read Scripture from the Book of Second Timothy, also an article from American Bible Society literature. In her comments she said 73 per cent of the population has not accepted Christ as their Savior. She read a poem "Windows of Gold" by Helen Steiner Rice and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Cloyce Copley presided during the business session. Reports were read and accepted. The Mid Year Workshop will be April 15, 16 and 17 in Columbus.

Mrs. Ralph Hays presented the program of the afternoon. She reviewed another chapter of the book "Our Heritage". She read of the home of Miss Frances Willard in Evanston, Ill., and of the beautiful antiques — the grandfather clock, spinning wheel, and of the beautiful woodwork in the home. It now houses the W.C.T.U. It is a shrine to the cause and visitors number in the thousands yearly. Mrs. Hays read a news article concerning children who are alcoholic.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Bethard served refreshments. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Norma Dodd, on April 26.

language, one wins their smiles — one shows respect for them by learning their language."

Guests were Miss Geraldine Craig of Kent; and three new members of Alpha Delta Chapter, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mrs. Betty Shipley and Mrs. John Gall. The planning committee was composed of Mrs. Tracy Hoffman, chairman, Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mrs. Mark King, Miss Marjorie Evans and Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter.

CF leaders announce activities

Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls, Leaders Association, held the March meeting at Grace United Methodist Church. Leader chairman Mrs. Ralph Tate, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Jack Ferguson read the minutes from the last meeting.

Mrs. Allen McClung, Executive Secretary, reminded leaders of the work to be done at Camp Murdock before Day Camp begins in June. Leaders were asked to call fathers of all girls in their groups.

Mrs. Charles Zinn, program chairman, told leaders of the final plans for the trip to the Cincinnati Zoo on May 4. There will be seven buses leaving from Eastside School promptly at 8:30 a.m. Groups are to be assembled by 8:00 a.m. She also announced skating parties on April 23 and 30 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Profit from the skating parties go toward camp improvement.

The new counselor camping was discussed and it was decided to hold a special meeting when Camp Director Mrs. Frank Sanderson could be present to answer questions. The meeting will be April 2 at 7:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Camp training will be held May 7 and 8 at the home of Mrs. Sanderson.

The next Leader meeting will be April 23 at 1:00 p.m. at the Grace Methodist Church.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Herb Satterfield.

Secretarial Seminar April 20

The Buckeye Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) is pleased to announce the second annual Secretarial Seminar.

The program will be presented at the Scioto Technical College in Lucasville on April 20 (Saturday), and is designed to interest commercial students, teachers, secretaries, stenographers, clerical workers, and members of management.

Representatives from education and industry will contribute their talents toward making this seminar a worthwhile event.

Registration fee is $8.00 per person, which includes lunch at the college. Students may attend for $4.00. Checks should be made payable to the Buckeye Chapter, NSA, and mailed to Mrs. Constance A. Eckhart, CPS, Rt. 4, Box 240, Lucasville (45648), along with the registration blank.

C.J. Nicley has birthday

C. J. Nicley was given a surprise birthday party at his home on the Bogus Rd. by his friends. He was also surprised with gifts from his family and friends.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran of Dayton, Mrs. Berneva Chamberlain, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Nicley and his brother Rod.

The county chairmen and co-chairmen of The Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library have been invited by Governor and Mrs. John J. Gilligan to hold their Annual Tea at the Governor's Mansion Bexley, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Mayo will represent Fayette county at this event which is annually sponsored by Ohioana Library as one of its important projects in promoting and publicizing the literary and musical accomplishment of Ohioans, and in gaining recognition for Ohio's authors and composers.

She will bring as guests Mrs. Richard P. Rankin, and Miss Marian Moore.

At this traditional event the chairmen of Ohio's 88 counties are asked to give brief resumes of their county activities promoting Ohio authors and supporting the Ohioana Library.

Dr. Merrill Patterson, President of the Board of Trustees, will preside at the workshop-program. There will be greetings from Mrs. Mills Judy, daughter of Mrs. M.K. Cooper, founder of Ohioana Library and from the Director, Mrs. Bernice Williams Foley.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of the Lucille Loy Kuck Ohioana Awards Contest for the winning essays by high school students of Ohio. Mrs. Kuck of New Knoxville, the donor of these awards, will be present, as will Minnie Hite Moody, Granville, Ohio, who is the judge of this contest.

Youth Activities

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP CLUB

Money-making projects were the main topics of the March Junior Leadership club meeting. The first suggestion was a slave auction, which includes selling members for 4-8 hours worth of work. Fayette county sheriff, Don Thompson, will be the auctioneer. The tentative place and date is April 20th at 10:30 a.m. on the Courthouse lawn. The club also voted to clean up Marion Township to raise money to send seniors to Washington D.C. at the end of year.

New business include that National Report forms are due at the next meeting. Junior leaders are also needed to help organize various new clubs in the county. Camp counselors for beginner's and junior camp were also announced. It was reported that 12 members attended the Camp Counselor's Workshop held at Camp Proctor.

Following adjournment, Sheila Gordon, Miami Trace's A.F.S. student for this year, gave a very interesting talk and showed slides of her home country South Africa.

The next meeting will be April 24 at the Extension office.

Rare babies celebrate 1st birthday

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Michelle and Angela Wright, two of the rarest babies on record, celebrated their first birthday Sunday.

Technically not twins although born at the same time, the baby girls were born from separate and independent uteri.

"It's been a special weekend for the babies and us," said the babies' mother, Lisa Wright, now 18.

The dual uterus births are so rare Dr. Stephen Hornstein said he's only been able to find records of one other such happening.

The two girls were premature and weighed less than five pounds at birth. "We weren't sure Angela was going to make it," said Mrs. Wright. Dr. Hornstein said both of the girls were fortunate not to develop serious health problems due to their initial weight and respiration difficulties.

"They don't have any problems except being spoiled," said Mrs. Wright.

"They're like their mother and father now," she added. "They like to sleep a lot, thank heavens."

The babies are not walking yet, but when they begin "I'm going to handcuff them together," laughed Mrs. Wright.

Red writer claims press made error

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn says that American newspaper commentators mistakenly interpreted his "Letter to the Soviet Leaders" as a call for nationalism.

The exiled Soviet writer, in an interview Sunday, said mutual understanding between the Soviet and American peoples "is particularly essential and is very difficult to establish from afar, using the superficial and often insufficiently thought-out judgments of the daily press."

"My 'Letter to the Soviet Leaders' was, even before its publication in the United States, subjected in the press, beginning with The New York Times, to primitive and even mistaken interpretations in contradiction to its real meaning. My program set down in this letter is a deduction from that general belief that nations and people can attain their supreme spiritual results only at the price of voluntary self-limitation in the outside world, concentrating exclusively on their internal development.

"For this reason, I suggested that my country should unilaterally renounce all conquests abroad and violence against all nations near and far, renounce all world pretensions and all kinds of international rivalry, in particular ... the arms race.

"I suggested that all this should be done on a scale far exceeding that which they dream of achieving by nuclear 'detente' and such a program was interpreted by American newspaper commentators as nationalism, that is the ideology of the warlike expansion of one's nation. The very idea of following the most recent technological recommendation of the Club of Rome was characterized as 'utopianism' and 'a call for return to the past.' In this way, the press is capable of introducing incomprehension between distant parts of the planet rather than internal understanding."

The Club of Rome is an international association of scientists and industrialists that sponsors studies and discussion meetings of statesmen and experts on major problems.

Ohio's weekend accident toll 9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nine persons, five of them pedestrians, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

A three-year-old Columbus boy was killed as he darted across a Lawrence County road Saturday, and a 93-year-old Coshocton man died the same day when struck at a Coshocton intersection. A Cleveland woman died crossing a street Sunday.

According to the patrol, drivers fled after two other pedestrians were killed — a 77-year-old Napoleon man early Saturday and a hitchhiker in Mansfield Friday night.

One man died when his car collided with a train Saturday in Miami County. There were no multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

The dead:
SUNDAY
CLEVELAND — Virginia Hutchinson, 24, of Cleveland, hit as she crossed a Cleveland street.

LORAIN — Donald Bennett, 18, of Lorain, in a three-car accident on Quarry Road in Lorain County.

SATURDAY
IRONTON — Britton Dale Dean, 3, of Columbus, hit as he darted across a county road in Lawrence County.

COSHOCTON — Charles M. Kreis, 93, of Coshocton, struck while crossing a street at a Coshocton intersection.

PIQUA — William Conover, 86, when his car collided with a train south of Piqua in Miami County.

CINCINNATI — Douglas L. Nields, 28, of suburban Clevs, when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 128 near Miamitown.

MARTINS FERRY — Joseph A. Brodzik Jr., 28, of Martins Ferry, in a one-car crash on U. S. 40 just east of Piqua in Belmont County.

NAPOLEON — James Hoffman, 77, of Napoleon, when struck on Ohio 108 five miles south of Napoleon in Henry County.

Book fair opens Tuesday

Washington Junior High School will sponsor a student book fair Tuesday through Thursday. Students will be able to browse and purchase books.

The book fair will be open during school hours on those three days. Books will be on display in Room 237.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project, Mrs. Mary Lorane Davis, librarian says. All profits will be used for library materials.

The Junior Bookworms group is sponsoring this event, with Mrs. Davis serving as chairman. The committee is composed of student library aides. Mothers of several students will help with the project.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges — books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies,

OCSEA chapter to meet Thursday

Young Adult Class plans activities

The New Holland Methodist Young Adult Class held the March meeting in the church following a potluck supper. Mrs. Nancy Kirk called the meeting to order with an Easter poem entitled "Ring Easter Bell." Mrs. Joyce Conrad and Mrs. Lynda Conrad gave reports. Old and new business was discussed and the class voted to purchase two Easter lilies for the Easter service to be donated to two members of the church after the service. It was also decided to purchase flowers for Mothers Day, as has been done for the past few years.

July 15 is the date for the ice cream social, and final plans for the adult Appreciation supper were made.

The program committee for the April meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bielano, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil.

Mrs. Larry Elliott is in charge of the nursery for April.

Members of Y-Gradale Sorority ended Lenten services on Wednesday evening in Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Those attending were Mrs. Jim Kirk, Mrs. Ed Fisher, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Loren Noble, Mrs. Dick Anthony, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Allen Mossbarger, Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. Robert Stanforth, Mrs. Phil Douglass, Mrs. Carl Wilt II and Mrs. Will Braun.

Following the service, the group went to the home of Mrs. William Stoughton for a social evening. Y-Gradale members are reminded that the next regular meeting will be April 8 in the home of Mrs. Fisher. The program will be on "First-Aid."

Delta Kappa Gamma observes 35th year

Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its birthday luncheon Saturday in Grace United Methodist Church to commemorate the 35th year. Alpha Gamma Chapter from Chillicothe joined in the celebration. Seventy-five members attended and 28 of these were from Chillicothe.

Miss Helen Hutson, president, welcomed guests, and the Chillicothe president, Mrs. Stanley Kuntzman, responded for her group. Charter members of Alpha Delta introduced were Mrs. Amelia Pensyl Child, Miss Jane Durant, Mrs. Elton B. Elliott, Miss Margaret Gibson and Mrs. Faye J. Mayo, the first chapter president from 1939-1943.

A candlelight service preceded the buffet meal prepared by the WSCS Ladies of the Church. Members participating were Miss Hutson, Mrs. Tran DePonte, Mrs. Norman Wilson and Mrs. Peg Morrow. Mrs. John Rhoads led members in group singing.

Members were seated at tables decorated with miniature gold fireside baskets filled with daisies, iris, and baby's breath. At each place setting was a favor wrapped in pretty floral paper. A decorated birthday cake graced the speaker's table. Miss Ruth Stecher gave the invocation.

Mrs. Karl Harper introduced Mrs. Jerry (Alice Craig) Ervin. She has studied Russian, German, French and Spanish in seven language programs in Russia; Dartmouth College, Munich, Germany; Paris, France; and Guadalajara, Mexico. She is currently teaching Russian in Upper Arlington High School in Columbus.

Dressed in a Mexican costume, Mrs. Ervin opened her most interesting presentation with the question, "Why learn a second language?" and answered the question with "Why did you learn the first language?" Ability to speak a foreign language has opened the door to friendship with people of other cultures. Her narration and slide presentation depicted the many interesting and friendly experiences she and her husband enjoyed in the foreign countries because of their inability to speak the language of the country.

Some of these experiences were listening to American records in a Moscow home, Mrs. Ervin's playing in the Oberammergau Village band in Germany and in the Passion Play orchestra, touring the Loire Valley chateaus with a native French woman and speaking French one hour and English the next hour, serving as head counselors at an international summer camp in Switzerland, and living in the luxurious home of a wealthy Mexican family.

She closed her narration by showing a slide of a group of smiling natives of Mexico, and emphasized that "if one goes to the trouble to learn the

Mrs. Bethards WCTU hostess

Mrs. Eldon Bethards extended hospitality to the Washington C.H. Woman's Christian Temperance Union, at her home Friday afternoon.

Meeting was opened with devotions by Miss Mabel Briggs. She read Scripture from the Book of Second Timothy, also an article from American Bible Society literature. In her comments she said 73 per cent of the population has not accepted Christ as their Savior. She read a poem "Windows of Gold" by Helen Steiner Rice and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Cloyce Copley presided during the business session. Reports were read and accepted. The Mid Year Workshop will be April 15, 16 and 17 in Columbus.

Mrs. Ralph Hays presented the program of the afternoon. She reviewed another chapter of the book "Our Heritage". She read of the home of Miss Frances Willard in Evanston, Ill., and of the beautiful antiques — the grandfather clock, spinning wheel, and of the beautiful woodwork in the home. It now houses the W.C.T.U. It is a shrine to the cause and visitors number in the thousands yearly. Mrs. Hays read a news article concerning children who are alcoholic.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Bethard served refreshments. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Norma Dodd, on April 26.

language, one wins their smiles - one shows respect for them by learning their language."

Guests were Miss Geraldine Craig of Kent; and three new members of Alpha Delta Chapter, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mrs. Betty Shipley and Mrs. John Gall. The planning committee was composed of Mrs. Tracy Hoffman, chairman, Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mrs. Mark King, Miss Marjorie Evans and Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter.

CF leaders announce activities

Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls, Leaders Association, held the March meeting at Grace United Methodist Church. Leader chairman Mrs. Ralph Tate, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Jack Ferguson read the minutes from the last meeting.

Mrs. Allen McClung, Executive Secretary, reported leaders of the work to be done at Camp Murdock before Day Camp begins in June. Leaders were asked to call fathers of all girls in their groups.

Mrs. Charles Zinn, program chairman, told leaders of the final plans for the trip to the Cincinnati Zoo on May 4. There will be seven buses leaving from Eastside School promptly at 8:30 a.m. Groups are to be assembled by 8:00 a.m. She also announced skating parties on April 23 and 30 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Profit from the skating parties go toward camp improvement.

The new counselor camping was discussed and it was decided to hold a special meeting when Camp Director Mrs. Frank Sanderson could be present to answer questions. The meeting will be April 2 at 7:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Camp training will be held May 7 and 8 at the home of Mrs. Sanderson.

The next Leader meeting will be April 23 at 1:00 p.m. at the Grace Methodist Church.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Herb Satterfield.

Members attending were Mrs. Tate, Mrs. James Hamilton, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Howard Gardner, Mrs. Gerald Wheat, Mrs. Dave Shepler, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Satterfield, Mrs. Leo Merritt, Mrs. Jane Marcum, Mrs. McClung, Mrs. Paul Sullivan, Mrs. Delbert Knisley, Mrs. James Valentine, Mrs. Charles Harris and Mrs. Zinn.

Secretarial Seminar April 20

The Buckeye Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) is pleased to announce the second annual Secretarial Seminar.

The program will be presented at the Scioto Technical College in Lucasville on April 20 (Saturday), and is designed to interest commercial students, teachers, secretaries, stenographers, clerical workers, and members of management.

Representatives from education and industry will contribute their talents toward making this seminar a worthwhile event.

Registration fee is $8.00 per person, which includes lunch at the college. Students may attend for $4.00. Checks should be made payable to the Buckeye Chapter, NSA, and mailed to Mrs. Constance A. Eckhart, CPS, Rt. 4, Box 240, Lucasville (45648), along with the registration blank.

C.J. Nicley has birthday

C. J. Nicley was given a surprise birthday party at his home on the Bogus Rd. by his friends. He was also surprised with gifts from his family and friends.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran of Dayton, Mrs. Berneva Chamberlain, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Nicley and his brother Rod.

Also present to extend best wishes were Lynne Acton, Suzanne Sicker, Diane Rodgers, Karla Johnson, Sharon Baird, Lisa Grubbs, Brenda Morris, Joan Jordan, Lana Ekins, Larry Bitzel, Jimmy Hixon, Robbie James, Mike Dunton, Jon Wilt, Dennis Combs, Brian Zurfance and Andy Pope.

The county chairmen and co-chairmen of The Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library have been invited by Governor and Mrs. John J. Gilligan to hold their Annual Tea at the Governor's Mansion Bexley, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Mayo will represent Fayette county at this event which is annually sponsored by Ohioana Library as one of its important projects in promoting and publicizing the literary and musical accomplishment of Ohioans, and in gaining recognition for Ohio's authors and composers.

She will bring as guests Mrs. Richard P. Rankin, and Miss Marian Moore.

At this traditional event the chairmen of Ohio's 88 counties are asked to give brief resumes of their county activities promoting Ohio authors and supporting the Ohioana Library.

Dr. Merrill Patterson, President of the Board of Trustees, will preside at the workshop-program. There will be greetings from Mrs. Mills Judy, daughter of Mrs. M.K. Cooper, founder of Ohioana Library and from the Director, Mrs. Bernice Williams Foley.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of the Lucille Loy Kuck Ohioana Awards Contest for the winning essays by high school students of Ohio. Mrs. Kuck of New Knoxville, the donor of these awards, will be present, as will Minnie Hite Moody, Granville, Ohio, who is the judge of this contest.

Youth Activities

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP CLUB

Money-making projects were the main topics of the March Junior Leadership club meeting. The first suggestion was a slave auction, which includes selling members for 4-8 hours worth of work. Fayette county sheriff, Don Thompson, will be the auctioneer. The tentative place and date is April 20th at 10:30 a.m. on the Courthouse lawn. The club also voted to clean up Marion Township to raise money to send seniors to Washington D.C. at the end of year.

New business include that National Report forms are due at the next meeting. Junior leaders are also needed to help organize various new clubs in the county. Camp counselors for beginner's and junior camp were also announced. It was reported that 12 members attended the Camp Counselor's Workshop held at Camp Proctor.

Following adjournment, Sheila Gordon, Miami Trace's A.F.S. student for this year, gave a very interesting talk and showed slides of her home country South Africa.

The next meeting will be April 24 at the Extension office.

Rare babies celebrate 1st birthday

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Michelle and Angela Wright, two of the rarest babies on record, celebrated their first birthday Sunday.

Technically not twins although born at the same time, the baby girls were born from separate and independent uteri.

"It's been a special weekend for the babies and us," said the babies' mother, Lisa Wright, now 18.

The dual uterus births are so rare Dr. Stephen Hornstein said he's only been able to find records of one other such happening.

The two girls were premature and weighed less than five pounds at birth. "We weren't sure Angela was going to make it," said Mrs. Wright. Dr. Hornstein said both of the girls were fortunate not to develop serious health problems due to their initial weight and respiration difficulties.

"They don't have any problems except being spoiled," said Mrs. Wright.

"They're like their mother and father now," she added. "They like to sleep a lot, thank heavens."

The babies are not walking yet, but when they begin "I'm going to handcuff them together," laughed Mrs. Wright.

Red writer claims press made error

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn says that American newspaper commentators mistakenly interpreted his "Letter to the Soviet Leaders" as a call for nationalism.

The exiled Soviet writer, in an interview Sunday, said mutual understanding between the Soviet and American peoples "is particularly essential and is very difficult to establish from afar, using the superficial and often insufficiently thought-out judgments of the daily press."

"My 'Letter to the Soviet Leaders' was, even before its publication in the United States, subjected in the press, beginning with The New York Times, to primitive and even mistaken interpretations in contradiction to its real meaning. My program set down in this letter is a deduction from that general belief that nations and people can attain their supreme spiritual results only at the price of voluntary self-limitation in the outside world, concentrating exclusively on their internal development.

"For this reason, I suggested that my country should unilaterally renounce all conquests abroad and violence against all nations near and far, renounce all world pretensions and all kinds of international rivalry, in particular ... the arms race.

"I suggested that all this should be done on a scale far exceeding that which they dream of achieving by nuclear 'detente' and such a program was interpreted by American newspaper commentators as nationalism, that is the ideology of the warlike expansion of one's nation. The very idea of following the most recent technological recommendation of the Club of Rome was characterized as 'utopianism' and 'a call for return to the past.' In this way, the press is capable of introducing incomprehension between distant parts of the planet rather than internal understanding."

The Club of Rome is an international association of scientists and industrialists that sponsors studies and discussion meetings of statesmen and experts on major problems.

Genealogical Society will hear archivist

"Early Illinois Pioneers and Where They Came From" will be the subject of a talk by Lowell M. Volkel when the South Central Ohio Genealogical Society meets Sunday afternoon at Carnegie Public Library.

Volkel is chief archivist of the Illinois State Archives.

The public is invited to attend the session which will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. There will be no charge.

George Robinson Jr., Washington C.H., is president of the South Central Ohio Society.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nine persons, five of them pedestrians, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

A three-year-old Columbus boy was killed as he darted across a Lawrence County road Saturday, and a 93-year-old Coshocton man died the same day when struck at a Coshocton intersection. A Cleveland woman died crossing a street Sunday.

According to the patrol, drivers fled after two other pedestrians were killed — a 77-year-old Napoleon man early Saturday and a hitchhiker in Mansfield Friday night.

One man died when his car collided with a train Saturday in Miami County. There were no multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

The dead:
SUNDAY
CLEVELAND — Virginia Hutchinson, 24, of Cleveland, hit as she crossed a Cleveland street.

LORAIN — Donald Bennett, 18, of Lorain, in a three-car accident on Quarry Road in Lorain County.

SATURDAY
IRONTON — Britton Dale Dean, 3, of Columbus, hit as he darted across a county road in Lawrence County.

COSHOCTON — Charles M. Kreis, 93, of Coshocton, struck while crossing a street at a Coshocton intersection.

PIQUA — William Conover, 86, when his car collided with a train south of Piqua in Miami County.

CINCINNATI — Douglas L. Nields, 28, of suburban Clevel., when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 128 near Miamitown.

MARTINS FERRY — Joseph A. Brodzik Jr., 28, of Martins Ferry, in a one-car crash on U. S. 40 just east of Ohio 214 in Belmont County.

NAPOLEON — James Hoffman, 77, of Napoleon, when struck on Ohio 108 five miles south of Napoleon in Henry County.

Book fair opens Tuesday

Washington Junior High School will sponsor a student book fair Tuesday through Thursday. Students will be able to browse and purchase books.

The book fair will be open during school hours on those three days. Books will be on display in Room 237.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project, Mrs. Mary Lorane Davis, librarian says. All profits will be used for library materials.

The Junior Bookworms group is sponsoring this event, with Mrs. Davis serving as chairman. The committee is composed of student library aides. Mothers of several students will help with the project.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges — books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies,

OCSEA chapter to meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Fayette County chapter of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Landmark feed plant, Old Chillicothe Rd.

Gary Johnson, chapter president, said Frank Ebner, an OCSEA staff representative, will speak on new legislation recently approved by the Ohio General Assembly relating to public employees.

Johnson said all public employees and their guests are invited to attend.

adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books.

The committee is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books.

Payment of Mahan Building maintenance OK'd by board

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners Monday morning approved an agreement with the Fayette County Agricultural Society to contribute funds for the maintenance of the Mahan Building on the Fairground. Commissioners approved a payment of $3,000 per year on a year-to-year basis for the maintenance of the Mahan Building after hearing a report from Eddie Kirk, president of the Fayette County Fair Board, and George Finley, board secretary.

The commissioners and the Fair Board members had previously been bound to a 10-year verbal agreement for the $3,000 annual payment, but the agreement had expired.

Kirk explained to commissioners that the Fair Board has experienced $3,665 in expenses for maintenance of the building recently, including a new roofing project and sewer and restroom improvements. The Fair Board charges $50 for the rental of the building.

The payment of $3,000 will come from the county's general fund revenue and will be paid twice per year.

Kirk said the debt on the Mahan Building will be retired in July, 1980. The Fair Board pays $450 per month. Kirk also said the debt on the new horse barn will be retired in 1982. The board pays $1,600 twice a year on that debt.

Commissioners will be attending a dinner meeting of the Fayette County Fair Board at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the Mahan Building.

The board also agreed to subscribe to an annual updating service of the Ohio Revised Code for various county offices.

Two area bands at district meet

Both the Washington Senior High School and the Miami Trace Symphonic Band received "average" ratings from judges at Wilmington High School Saturday.

They were two of more than 20 schools judged in the Ohio Music Educators Association's District 14 band contest.

Although Charles Shaffer, director of the WSHS band, left before all of the judging was completed, he said that only two schools in the first half of the competition received a higher ranking. At that point Wilmington had received a superior rating, and Springboro had been rated excellent. Those rated superior will appear later in statewide competition.

The bands were required to play three selections of their own choice for which they could prepare. They were then given a selection by the judges to sight-read. Paul Febo, music director at Miami Trace, was happy that his group received an excellent rating on the sight-reading selection.

There are 86 student musicians in the Miami Trace Symphonic Band, and 71 members in the Washington Senior High Concert Band.

In other matters, Reginald (Chink) Davis, county dog warden, submitted 35 reports for the week.

Commissioners will be viewing the proposed Kellough ditch improvement project, located along Ohio 41-N, at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Slate hearings on advertising by utility firms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings will resume Tuesday morning and continue at least another week on a request before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to limit utilities' advertising, an official said.

Ruth Siegfried, the hearing examiner, said scheduled witnesses in the opening session include Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. and the Ohio Environmental Services Corp.

Hearings began Feb. 26 on the proposed ban on advertising by the electric utilities to promote power consumption. The request was entered by the Ohio Public Interest Action Group, Inc.

PUCO has issued an interim order to halt the advertising except where it advocates or promotes power conservation.

Kite Day event draws 20 kids

The first Community Education "Kite Day" was held Sunday afternoon after rain forced its postponement from Saturday.

Twenty participants brought their kites to Eymann Park and the variety of kite shapes and sizes testified to the amount of time and work spent making them.

Scott Beard was the outstanding winner, capturing prizes for largest kite, the highest flying kite, and the most colorful kite in his age division.

Other winners included Tony Mart, Gale Cook and Vicky Straley for most unique kites; Angela Cook and Vicky Straley for most colorful; Brenda Cook for highest flying; and Debbie Crider for largest flying kite.

Each contestant received a kite donated by Seaway and a soft drink provided by Sagar's. Other prizes were donated by Scott's, Stop 'N Go, TSC, Pizza Hut, Roberts Drive-In, French's, Steen's, Murphy's, Risch and Downtown Drugs, Boylan and Cannon, and the Washington Savings Bank.

Judging was handled by six members of the Mother's Circle.

A number of area residents were on hand to watch the competition.

Stolen car recovered

A car stolen sometime Friday night has been recovered by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

The car belonging to the late Ralph L. Bray, Staunton-Jasper Road, was recovered by Sheriff's Sgt. John L. Emrick, stuck in the mud behind the sewage disposal plant on Elm Street. It was stolen from Bowland Lanes, CCC-Highway-W, sometime Friday evening.

Sgt. Emrick made the recovery at 3:15 p.m. Saturday. He stated the car incurred no apparent damage.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, London, is assisting the Sheriff's Department investigation by lifting fingerprints.

Mrs. Daphne Hastings, Xenia, went back to the restroom after discovering she had not put her diamond ring, valued at $1300, on her finger after washing her hands. It was gone.

The loss occurred at the Washington C.H. Eagles Lodge, 320 Sycamore St., during a dance on Dec. 8, police were told by the woman last Wednesday.

Puckett's blast Superior 102-77

Capture fifth Jaycees tourney

Dayne Puckett's All-Stars, sponsored by Boatman's Nursery of Bainbridge, walked by Superior Carpet 102-77 in the final game of the fifth annual Jaycees Invitational basketball tournament Sunday.

The most successful tournament to date, saw Puckett's defeat a tired Superior Carpet team. The Wilmington based team, was the winner of the losers bracket and played in three games Saturday and three straight games Sunday to lose in the finals.

In Saturday's nine game slate Superior Carpet led off the action with a 99-82 win over Sardinia Merchants

Beef drawing

In the "Beef-for-a-Buck" drawing Saturday night at the Jaycees basketball tournament, three winners were named.

First prize of 1/2 of a beef went to Scott Case, second prize of a hind quarter went to Robert Fernung and third prize of a front quarter went to Donald Bernard.

Circleville Oil downed Sabina Bank 113-77 in the second game. Washington Savings Bank defeated Dave Dennis Volkswagen 107-92 in the third game. The fourth game had Dayne Puckett's All-Stars squeezing by Eldon Roberts 111-99. The fifth game Superior Carpet defeated Circleville Oil 89-83. Harris Auction pasted Circleville Oil 110-81 in the sixth game. Puckett's defeated Washington Savings Bank 95-84 in the seventh game. Superior Carpet eliminated Dave Dennis Volkswagen 89-75 in the eighth game and Eldon Roberts defeated Harris Auction 102-95 in the ninth game.

Sunday's action saw Superior Carpet walk by Eldon Roberts 89-79 in the first game and defeat Washington Savings Bank 92-87 in the second game.

In the second contest Sunday, Junior Rollins tallied 32 points for Superior will Phil Snow backing him up with 20. Gary Shaffer led the Bank with 38 points followed by Les Shaffer with 31.

The final game started at 7:00 p.m. after a three and a half hour break. Puckett's broke out on top in the first quarter and never gave the lead back. Going into the second frame Puckett's led 20-13 and at halftime held a 39-33 lead.

Starting the second half Puckett's scored nine straight points in the first two minutes while holding Superior scoreless. Once Superior got back on the scoring track Puckett's lead was too great to overcome.

Bowlands 400, 500 winners released

Results of Bowland Lanes annual 400 and 500 event, that was held Sunday, were released today.

In the 500 tournament Mike Patton was the first place finisher with a 572 series and a 99 pin handicap for a 671 total. Patton received $30 for the event. Second place went to Dennis Holloway with a 553 and a 81 pin handicap for a 634 series. Holloway collected $18. Ernest Stanforth was third with a 633 winning $12; fourth place went to James Morris with a 622 winning $7.50 and fifth went to Jerry Hamby with a 621 winning $5.

In the 400 tournament Helen Pfeifer was first with a 471 actual and 105 pin handicap for a 576 total. She received $25. Second place went to Catherine Jordan with a 574 for $15. Third place went to Reta Clary with a 570 for $10; and fourth place went to Connie Batson with a 568 for $5.

Other finishers in both the 500 and 400:

The third quarter score had Puckett's ahead 68-49 with the final score being 102-77.

Superior Carpet played its substitutes part of the third quarter and all of the fourth period but Puckett's would have won even with Superior's starters in the game.

Familiar Ohio University faces led Puckett's All-Stars to the win. Bill Brown and Denny Thompson paced the scoring with 27 and 26 points respectively with Denny Rusch and Dick Vories backing the duo up with 17 and 16 points.

Superior Carpet was led by Tim Wilson with 18 points followed by Ron Rockhold with 16 Phil Snow and Gary Rinehart back them up with 11 and 10 points.

Following the tournament the Jaycees presented team trophies to both the winner and the runner-up and also presented individual trophies to the winners.

Top dragster, 2 mechanics are killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Anderson, a race driver for 21 years, wanted a shot at Gary Gabelich's world land speed record. He'll never get it.

Anderson, 43, died Saturday when his rocket-propelled dragster crashed at Charlotte, N.C. Two other persons were killed in the accident.

Carlos Reutemann, a broad-shouldered comparative newcomer from Argentina, had forecast last year that 1974 would be his big year on the international Formula I Grand Prix circuit.

Saturday, Reutemann won the South African Grand Prix. Only 10 days ago, American star Peter Revson had met his death in a crash while testing for the race.

Anderson, who labeled himself "the world's fastest shoe" and called his hydrogen peroxide dragster the "Pollution Packer," had set 13 international speed records at Bonneville, Utah, last September.

He had planned to go back later this year with a much stronger rocket car and shoot for Gabelich's existing mark of 622 miles an hour.

Capital defeats Knicks 99-87 in NBA playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We know we can beat the Knicks now," declared Capital's Elvin Hayes. "This is just what we needed to win it all."

Hayes and the rest of the Bullets were brimming with confidence Sunday after dumping New York 99-87 to even their best-of-7 National Basketball Association Eastern Conference semifinal playoff series at one game each.

"Against the Knicks, the players have the attitude that they're too tough to beat, and they go into a game tight," Hayes explained. "These games loosen you up because you know they can be beaten and that attitude carries over into the next game."

In Hayes' case, the confidence is not hard to understand. The 6-foot-9 former Houston All-American has collected 74 points in the first two games, despite an

King and Baney optioned by Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds enter the opening week of baseball without two 1973 heroes.

Missing are catcher Hal King, whose pinch hit homers ignited the Cincinnati pennant surge, and castoff pitcher Dick Baney, who returned from obscurity to nail down the title-winning victory.

Both were optioned Sunday to the Reds' farm team in Indianapolis. The two took the news without bitterness. "I could see it coming," said King, referring to the invasion of hard-hitting newcomers.

"I'm just happy to be in baseball," said Baney. "I'm going over there — Indianapolis — and do the best I can."

The moves reduced the Reds' roster to the opening day limit of 25.

It also meant pitchers Pat Osburn and Mike McQueen have temporarily won jobs with the defending National League challengers.

Earlier Sunday the Reds absorbed an 8-3 loss to Detroit as the Tigers struck for four-run innings off starter Don Gullett and reliever Tom Hall.

King's departure marked the third lefthanded hitter cut from the squad this week. Joe Hague and Larry Stahl were released on waivers.

King became a darling of Reds' fans last July when he blasted a two-out, pinch hit homer to score three runs in a ninth inning rally against leagueleading Los Angeles. The Reds went on to sweep the double header and roared back from an 11-game deficit to win a third division title. "I had to decide who I would rather have for a base hit, King or Cesar Geronimo," said Manager George "Sparky" Anderson.

The decision to cut Baney hurt, said Anderson, but the young hurler's attitude impressed the Reds' field boss.

"That is the all-time man. I've been in baseball 20 years and a manager for nine years and I've never met a man like that before."

Baney, when told the news, replied: "You treated me like a man. Other teams don't call you, they just tell you to report to the minor league camp."

Baney was released by three different clubs last year, before getting another chance with the Reds' Indianapolis farm team. His 8-4 record earned him a late-season promotion and he made the most of it.

He had a 2-1 record with the Reds in 11 appearances. But his 9.00 earned-run average this spring hurt his chances.

Willie Horton's four RBIs on a single, double and home run keyed Detroit's victory. Lerrin LaGrew was the winning pitcher.

Dave Concepcion had a solo homer for the Reds.

Dolphins lose three to WFL

TORONTO (AP) — Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick — gears in the Miami Dolphins' grind-it-out offense — have jumped for an estimated $3.5 million to the Toronto Northmen of the World Football League, giving the fledgling league almost instant respectability.

"We're guaranteed this money," said Kiick after the signings, effective for the 1975 season and for three years, were disclosed Sunday. "If we get hurt, if we die, if the WFL doesn't get off the ground, we still get it."

The trio — Warfield is a receiver, the other two are running backs — will play out their 1974 options with the team which they helped win the last two National Football League championships.

Miami Coach Don Shula, however, said he might not even play the three this coming season. But Csonka discounted any reprisal by Shula, saying, "He wants to win the Super Bowl again and so do we."

Each earned about $60,000 last season as Dolphins, plus the extra money — $15,000 each in the Super Bowl — for playoff victories.

No breakdown on how the $3.5 million would be divided among the three was disclosed. Presumably, Csonka would get the most money.

Kiick said the other 11 teams in the WFL, which will begin play in July, contributed $1 million to the contracts, highest priced deals ever in pro football history.

"I am disappointed, shocked, sick, whatever," a bitter Joe Robbie, managing general partner of the Dolphins, said in Miami Sunday night after the jump was announced in Toronto. "I feel (player agent) Ed Keating took three of our players to Canada who were in a frame of mind to come back and listen when they left."

But Robbie said the Dolphins weren't concerned about any legal action "at this point."

Csonka, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards the past three seasons, said his financial future was a primary consideration in the move.

"In this case, it is one of the considerations, of course," the bull-necked fullback said, "but there are others.... the Toronto club offered us more than we anticipated — even more than we had asked for in the exploratory package."

Robbie said he had asked Keating to return with the players from Toronto, where negotiating sessions took place, adding that the "$3 million wouldn't burn in two days." But, Robbie said Keating responded with a "take it or leave it" attitude and the Dolphin official refused to negotiate by phone.

"Everyone knows how I feel about them," Shula said. "They are great players. We were in a unique situation of being able to go after our third Super Bowl in a row next season. Our thought was to do everything possible to get everyone back."

Antique show, sale attract big crowds

Large crowds of antique fanciers attended Phi Beta Psi sorority's third annual antique show and sale which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairground.

Mrs. Portia Cunningham said more than 1,300 persons viewed and purchased a wide variety of antiques and other related items Sunday. Antique dealers from several states including Florida were present.

Ron Hall and Mark Boultinghouse, show managers, expressed satisfaction with this year's show by announcing plans to return next spring.

The Country Crafts for Cancer booth, a new feature of the antique show, was a cooperative venture with the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society, the sorority and other community residents serving as active participants.

More than $1,100 was realized as profit for the Fayette County Unit for cancer research. Of that amount, approximately $380 worth of craft items and cash were donated to the Martha Schaeper Memorial Fund here.

A Victorian doll replica, created by Mrs. Henry Best, was won by Mrs. Don Kirk, and an afghan donated by Mrs. Will Braun was won by Mrs. Susan Friend, of South Solon.

Mrs. Alfred Hagler Jr. and Mrs. Willis Coffman were co-chairmen of the third annual antique show. The craft booth committee consisted of Mrs. Ralph Gebhart, Mrs. Donald Wald and Mrs. James Cunningham.

March moisture falls below norm

March precipitation in Washington C.H. totaled 3.31 inches, .68 below the 3.99-inch average for the month, records kept by Coyt A. Stookey, official weather observer for the city, disclose.

Precipitation for the first quarter of the year now stands at 8.24 inches of snow and rain. This is 1.57 inches below the 9.81-inch average for the January through March period.

There was either rain or now on 16 of March's 31 days, ranging from a trace on the 13th to .91 inch on the 16th.

Daily minimum temperatures for the month ranged from a low of 5 on the 23rd to a high of 63 on the 8th. Daily maximums ranged from a low of 27 on the 24th to a high of 79 on the 8th.

Here are the actual Washington C.H. precipitation figures for the first quarter of 1974 as compared with the established averages:

	Act.	Avg.
January	2.94	3.38
February	1.99	2.44
March	3.31	3.99
Totals	8.24	9.81

Washington Inn restaurant opens

The Washington Inn restaurant opened for business at 5:30 a.m. Monday after being closed for nearly two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Thompson, of Washington Manor Court, who recently leased the bar and restaurant, will serve meals from 5:30 a.m. until 10 p.m. six days a week. The restaurant will be open from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Sunday. However, if there is sufficient demand the Sunday hours may be extended to include breakfasts, they said.

Final approval of the operation is required before the state will allow the liquor license to become effective, and an inspection is scheduled for the near future.

When the license becomes effective, the bar will remain open until 2:30 a.m.

Terry Adams, U.S. 35, was the winner of a Westinghouse humidifier, and Elmo Purdin, Rt. 5, Washington C.H., won a portable television set.

Buckner said he was most enthusiastic about the welcome extended by area residents during the opening of the new store.

Carbon monoxide blamed for deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said that Marvin Blasley, 24, and his 21-year-old wife, Shelia, whose bodies were found Sunday evening in their Columbus home, apparently died Saturday night of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Authorities blamed a faulty space heater.

FIRST DELIVERY — Mrs. Harry Haines, left, and Mrs. Charles Moore, of Beta Omega chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, in Washington C.H., deliver an advance order of daffodils to James R. Wilson, president of the Fayette County Bank. The sorority sponsored the "Daffodil Days" event Friday and Saturday and raised $1,100 which will be forwarded to the American Cancer Society. Sorority members sold more than 100 dozen flowers in advance sales alone and also sold the flowers on the street Saturday. The Fayette County Bank is sponsoring a booth for the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society at the annual Home Show this weekend. Other sorority members are Mrs. Gary McMurray, Mrs. Jack Shoemaker, Mrs. Ralph Leeds, Mrs. Wayne Clark, Mrs. Steve Jennings and Mrs. Kenneth Everhart.

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Fibroid Tumors and Cancer

I have had a fibroid tumor of my womb for many years. The doctor has been watching it at regular intervals, and I have not been concerned about it. Recently, a friend intimated that these tumors can become malignant. Since then, I have not had a restful night's sleep.

Mrs. M.W., La.

Dear Mrs. W.:

The friend would have been a better friend if she did not impose her misinformation on you.

From a strict scientific and medical point of view, it is true that certain tumors, when overlooked and neglected, can become malignant or cancerous. This technical fact, however, does not apply to you.

The tumor of your uterus has rightfully been kept under observation by your own doctor. Had the tumor suddenly become enlarged, or had there been any unusual type of prolonged menstrual bleeding, you can be certain that your own doctor would have suggested surgical removal.

It was unfair to implant such an unnecessary fear into your psyche. After you have my reassurance, you should, of course, be examined at this time to definitively blot out your present anxiety.

Is an angiogram a dangerous procedure in a person past fifty? How is it done?

Mr. F.P., Kan.

Dear Mr. P.:

Angiograms are one of a group of many techniques that are now in use for learning all about the conditions of the blood vessels of the neck, the brain, the heart, the abdomen, and of the arms and legs. By a complicated technique, special dyes are injected into the bloodstream and then followed by X-rays as the dye passes through the entire circulatory system.

There is a moderate risk to every procedure. When an angiogram is suggested, the advantages are carefully balanced against the disadvantages. If any special risks are apparent, the procedure is usually postponed. Certainly the age of 50 is not the criterion for or against the use of this valuable adjunct to modern diagnosis.

Opening lead - jack of hearts.

Foresight is a marvelous virtue that is handsomely rewarded in some hands. Here is a gem of purest ray serene that occurred in the 1967 Far Eastern championship played in Manila in the match between China and Australia.

When Tai and Huang held the North-South cards for Taiwan, they got to four spades doubled on the bidding shown. West led the jack of hearts, won by Huang with the queen, and declarer played the ace of spades, East showing out. Huang realized that if he played a trump to the queen at this point, he could be defeated by West's taking the king and returning a low diamond to East for a deadly heart lead back. The Australians would thus score a spade, a diamond, a heart ruff and, later, another heart.

So, to forestall this, Huang cashed the A-K-Q of clubs in that order and led a spade towards the queen.

West went up with the king but found himself on the horns of a dilemma. He could not defeat the contract whatever he did at this point.

If he played the ace and another diamond, he would not get a heart ruff and declarer's only losers would be a spade, a heart and a diamond.

If he played a low diamond to East's king instead, he would be able to ruff South's ace of hearts when East returned the king, but that would mark the end of the road for the defense. West would be unable to find a safe return, whether he yielded a ruff and discard by playing a club, or whether he returned a diamond and made dummy's jack a trick.

Either way, Huang was certain to make the contract.

MT's Science Fair biggest in history

The Miami Trace Science Fair brought a greater turnout Saturday than ever before in the school's history as 124 entrants and hundreds of observers gathered in the high school cafeteria.

Awards were presented to the four top projects in each of four categories, fourth and fifth graders, sixth graders, seventh and eighth graders and high school students.

Winners in the latter category were David Foster, Stuart Foster, Tom Payton and Tom Hawk. Junior high winners were Betty Woods, David Keim, Nancy Wolfe and Gary Foster. Sixth grade awards were taken by Karl Gass, Bobby Peterson, Nancy Eltzroth, and Beth Barton. Fourth and fifth grade winners were Ben Iden, John Gass, Margaret Peterson and Elizabeth Cunningham.

The sixteen top winners were awarded ribbons, their choice of science magazine subscriptions, $5 science kits and $5 worth of science-oriented paperback books.

Receiving superior ratings and $3 science kits and $3 in paperbacks were Sherry Myers, Lori James, Craig Wilson, Greg Bentley, Joe Forrest, Kevin Birchfield, John Chesnut, Jeff Overly and Alan Thompson.

All of the awards and prizes, donated by local merchants, were presented by Tom Payton, Science Club president, and David Foster, the club's vice president and student chairman of the Science Fair.

A TRAVELING TROPHY

Food giveaway riddled by theft

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Internal thefts and poor administration riddled the mass food giveaway aimed at ending Patricia Hearst's two-month captivity, says the community coalition named to monitor the handouts.

Washington Secretary of State A. Ludlow Kramer, who organized the People in Need program, denied the charges.

The coalition aired its complaints on KPFA radio here Sunday in a prepared statement read by seven representatives of San Francisco Bay area groups.

The speakers declared the $2 million PIN food program suffered from a "general lack of coordination," no regularly scheduled meetings, no defined lines of authority, erroneous news releases, no food checking system and transportation and warehouse troubles.

The Symbionese Liberation Army, which abducted Miss Hearst from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4, named the coalition to monitor the giveaway it demanded as a precondition for Miss Hearst's release.

Kramer replied: "We have no intention of getting into a yelling match with the coalition. We did that for 35 days. I'm sorry the coalition is not concerned with trying to get Patty Hearst back, but only with themselves."

Regarding the so-called ripoffs, Kramer said 500 cases of chicken were for the best performance by one school will be presented to Wilson Elementary. The runner up was Madison Mills Elementary. Judging in the school category was based on the number of students enrolled, the number who had exhibits at the fair and the scores obtained by the contestants. Both schools will receive magazine subscription from the National Science Teachers Association.

All seventh-through 12th grade students who received superior ratings or placed in the overall awards will be eligible to participate in the West District Science Day at Central State University April 6.

Since conservation is an important aspect in world progress today and the Fayette Soil and Water Conservation District is the largest single contributor to the Science Fair, special recognition was given for the top conservation projects. These winners were Bobby Peterson, "Tile Drainage," Kathy Jenkins, "Strip Mining," Robbie James, "Soil Erosion," and Jeff Overly, "Change and Deposits."

There were 34 adult judges, including both area residents and out-of-town guests, and 124 student judges. Approximately 60 area merchants contributed money and prizes for the fair.

Each student who entered a project was given a ticket for admission to the Columbus Center of Science and Industry, located on Broad Street in Columbus.

Harold Gass, teacher at Miami Trace, was the adult coordinator.

Students compete in swine judging

Students from all over Southern Ohio gathered at the Fayette County Fairground Saturday for the Ohio Hampshire Swine Breeders Junior Field Day and State Sale.

The student judging competition was held in the afternoon and the Hampshire sale was held in the early evening.

Miami Trace students captured first place in the senior individual and team judging competition.

Mike Coe, of the Miami Trace FFA, took honors as the top senior judge and joined Scott Jenks and Jim McCoy in the team competition to capture another first.

Debby Fry, of the Warren County Beef Club, Lebanon, took first place in the junior judging competition.

Other area students who finished in the top five in each category were Kevin Adams, of Fairfield, Leesburg, and Chris Garland, Miami Trace, who were second and fourth respectively in the senior judging; Wayne Fisher, Sabina, John Wilt, of Good Hope, and Lori Holloway and Sandy Shaefer, of Bloomingburg, who captured second-through fifth respectively in the junior judging.

THE HAMPSHIRE auction brought a total of $14,983 in sales. The champion and top-selling boar was purchased from Ronald Fielitz, of West Unity, for $675.

The champion and top selling open gilt was purchased from Larry Leffel, of New Knoxville, for $500.

The top bred gilt was brought by Andrews and Baughn, Bloomingburg, and sold for $250. The two top FFA and 4-H project pigs, also owned by Andrews and Baughn, sold for $135 each.

Emerson Marting was the auctioneer, and Charlie Andrews and David Runyon were the co-chairman of the junior judging activities. Dick Nash, Hampshire breeder from Tipton, Ind., and Dr. Gene Isler, swine Extension specialist from Ohio State University, were the adult judges.

Judge orders cash refund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A judge here has ordered a refund of $1.7 million to persons who don't work for the state but are members of the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System.

Common Pleas Court Judge Fred J. Shoemaker ruled the non-state employees are entitled to recover a portion of the contributions they made to the system between Jan. 1, 1973 and July 1973.

The money will go to 129,127 persons not employed by the state who belonged to the system at the time.

Four persons hurt in city crash

Four people were injured in a three-car accident Saturday, city police reported, along with two other accidents.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department charged a Greenfield man with reckless operation and reported two other accidents.

Three cars collided and four people were hurt when a New Rome man apparently "jumped" a red light at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Elm Street at 5:53 p.m. Saturday.

Suffering a minor lip injury was the driver of one of the cars, Mary A. Wilson, 17, of 530 Mayfair Dr. Her car was heavily damaged.

The passenger in one of the other cars, driven by Alva E. Crabtree, 69, of 433 Warren Ave., suffered neck, rib and chest pain. The woman, Rilla Crabtree, 72, of 433 Warren Ave. was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released.

Two children, Frank E. Seiler, 10, and Teddi Carol Seiler, 16, were injured in the badly damaged car, driven by Gene Seiler, 38, New Rome.

Teddi Seiler suffered a knee injury, while Frank Seiler was listed by police as showing visible signs of injury, but the extent was not known.

Seiler was charged with a traffic light violation.

A HITSKIP accident damaged a car owned by Gelina Mullins, 625 Campbell St., while it was parked in front of her residence between 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday, police reported.

A Columbus man was charged by police with backing without safety at 9:05 a.m. Sunday.

Gregory A. Wray, 18, backed into a car driven by Carl D. Hillery, 65, of 617 Broadway, at the intersection of Elm Street and Columbus Avenue, moderate damage resulted and Wray was cited.

A GREENFIELD MAN was charged with reckless operation by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department at 1 a.m. Saturday.

Wayne T. Fout, 16, drove off Ohio Rt. 41, two-tenths of a mile north of the Highland-Fayette County line and slid broadside 370 feet. The car then entered a ditch and struck a road-sign. Damage was moderate.

Gerald Ford's son unhappy with Nixon

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford's son John worked for President Nixon's reelection in 1972. "But of late, I have become disillusioned with him," the younger Ford says of Nixon.

Young Ford made the comment in an interview published Sunday in the Salt Lake City Tribune. "I'm not so sure my father disagrees with me," he said. Ford also said he doesn't think his father will run for President in 1976.

A car owned by Barbara Lynn Gillett, Rt. 3, was struck by a hitskip driver sometime between 12:15 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. Sunday, while the auto was parked in front of her residence. Sheriff's deputies reported the left front fender damaged.

An accident occurred in the Tractor Sales Co. parking lot, CCC-Highway-W, at 3:40 p.m. Saturday, sheriff's deputies reported.

A parked car owned by Lloyd L. Butcher, Bloomingburg, was struck by a car driven by Michael A. Cruea, 20, Rt. 3, as he backed from a parking place.
